700 INDIAN STUDENTS IN CANADA FACE DEPORTATION OVER FAKE DOCUMENTS

The students, most of them from Punjab, had moved to Canada in 2017-19 on student visas. Their admission letters were found to be fake

₹16-20 LAKH PAID TO AGENT TO SECURE VISA

The fraud was discovered in March, when the students applied for permanent residency in Canada. When the Canadian Border Service Agency perused the documents the students had submitted for their visas, it found the purported admission letters from Humber College in Toronto were fake. The students had paid ₹16-20 lakh each to a Jalandhar-based agent for moving to Canada

CANADIAN OPPN LEADER PLEDGES SUPPORT

- Once the students reached Canada, the agent told them to seek admission elsewhere saying Humber seats were full. He also returned some money
- Meanwhile, Canadian opposition leader Pierre Poilievre hit out at the Justin Trudeau-led government for the decision to deport the students. He said the students came in good faith and completed their programmes

UJWAL JALALI @New Delhi

TOP protesting wrestlers on Wednesday agreed to suspend their agitation after Union sports minister Anurag Thakur assured that the Delhi Police probe into charges of sexual harassment against sidelined Wrestling Federation of India (WFI) chief Brij Bhushan Sharan Singh will be wrapped up by June 15.

"We had a very positive discussion with the protesting wrestlers... They demanded that the investigation be concluded and a chargesheet be filed by June 15. This demand was agreed by consensus," Thakur said after having a six-hour-long discussions with the a wrestler delegation.

This was the second meeting between the government and the protesting wrestlers within five days. The grapplers had met Union home minister Amit Shah on Saturday night.

On Wednesday, top wrestlers including Bajrang Punia and Sakshi Malik met Thakur and made five significant demands, including the appointment of a woman WFI chief and the scrapping of police FIRs against them for violation of law and order on May 28.

"In the meeting, it was suggested by the wrestlers that the WFI elections be held by June 30 and an Internal Complaints Committee of WFI be formed that should be headed by a woman," Thakur said, adding all of them were agreed.

"Also, two names of coaches were suggested by the wrestlers who will be part of the ad-hoc committee for technical assistance," he added.

The minister said all decisions were taken unanimously, adding the wrestlers had also demanded the withdrawal of cases against various academies and sportspersons as well as not allowing Singh and his associates to participate in the election process.

The government also agreed to the demand not to allow Brij Bhushan Singh, who has completed three terms as president, and his associates to contest the forthcoming elections.

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR
@ New Delhi

A series of meetings held by the BJP brass here since Monday has set off speculation of an organisational revamp and a possible minor reshuffle in the Union cabinet before the departure of Prime Minister Narendra Modi to the US.

Some ministers could be dropped and given organisational responsibilities so as to prepare the party for the 2024 Lok Sabha elections. If sources are to be believed, a rejig in the ministries of agriculture, aviation, finance, Jal Shakti, environment and climate change, power and rural development is on the cards.

The party's senior leadership is learnt to have brainstormed on revamping BJP units in various states, including Madhya Pradesh, Rajasthan, Bihar, Telangana, Karnataka, Andhra Pradesh, Uttar Pradesh, Himachal Pradesh, Chhattisgarh and Kerala.

The party is also expected to soon announce the name of leader of Opposition in the Karnataka Assembly. Incumbent Karnataka BJP chief Nalin Kateel has completed his term in office.

Centre hikes kharif crop MSPs by 5-10%, ₹143 more for paddy

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @New Delhi

A day after removing the procurement ceiling for pulses under the price support scheme to encourage farmers to boost production, the Centre on Wednesday increased the minimum support price (MSP) of kharif crops. The latest move is to provide better remuneration to farmers and motivate them to diversify their crops.

The Cabinet Committee on Economic Affairs, chaired by PM Modi, approved revision in MSP for all mandated kharif crops grown in 2023-24 crop year and procured in Kharif marketing season (October-September). The decision comes in the backdrop of weaker monsoons and reduced sowing areas. For primary food crops such as paddy, the new MSP stands at ₹2,183 per quintal — an increase of ₹143 from the previous year.

The MSP of moong has been increased by ₹803 to ₹8,558 and sesame by ₹805 to ₹8,635. The MSP for maize has been raised by 6.5% to ₹2,090 per quintal, tur/arhar by 6% to ₹7,000, urad by 5% to ₹6,950, groundnut by 9% to 6,377, sunflower by 5.6% to ₹6,760, and soybean by 7% to ₹4,600.

However, the comparative data over the past 9 yrs show the rate of increment in MSP during NDA rule (2014-2023) is significantly lower than that of the previous 9yrs (2004-2013) under the UPA govt.

These Bagalkot villagers getting free power supply for last 20 yrs

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Belagavi

RESIDENTS of Shirol village in Bagalkot district have been enjoying free electricity for the past 20 years when people of other parts of the state are now eagerly waiting for Congress government's guarantee of free power up to 200 units a household.

Incidentally, Shirol is the only village in the state where people are getting electricity free of cost, thanks to Raitha Sangha members, who along with villagers, staged an agitation and locked up government officials in a room in protest against power crisis at Shirol village 20 years ago. After the agitation, officials never collected power bills from the people of Shirol.

Venkanna Malali of Shirol said people of his village faced severe power crisis till 2003. They depended on electricity to irrigate their crops. Because of the power crisis, they faced huge losses every year. With officials of the then Karnataka Electricity Board (KEB) not responding to their pleas for proper power supply, the villagers led by Raitha Sangha leaders staged a massive agitation in front of Shirol Gram Panchayat office in 2003. The enraged villagers locked up a team of officials, who tried to pacify them, in the panchayat office. P4

POWER SHOCKER COMING UP IN JUNE, JULY BILLS

Energy minister attributes delay in generating bills to the department calculating amount based on the revision in KERC orders

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

BE cautious and start saving up to pay the electricity tariff for the months of June and July, before you avail of the Gruha Jyothi scheme. A week into June, consumers are yet to get electricity bills, and many are making inquiries to know if the the bill is zero or if there is any error.

Energy Minister KJ George on Wednesday said the delay in generating bills was because the department was calculating the amount based on the revision in KERC orders.

Energy department officials explained that the delay was because of calibration due to the revision as per the power tariff order. Electricity bills generated will be on the higher side for the months of June and July and even till August first week, before the Gruha Jyothi scheme is implemented, because of the calculations being done.

Back-end check for errors was also being done to ensure that Escoms do not bear any losses when consumers start availing of the free power scheme, the official added. However, there was no clarity whether consumers will have to pay a late fee, if the bills are generated late.

The second round of revision in electricity bills will be done in August, when fuel adjustment charges will be imposed, as per KERC orders. This revision will have no impact on those whose consumption is below 200 units, but will have a major impact on those who use more power.

Linking RR number to Aadhaar

Around 90 per cent of RR numbers are not linked to Aadhaar. A couple of years after Aadhaar was introduced, Escoms had started the exercise of linking Aadhaar with RR numbers, and this was done with new connections, an official said.

"So while we have RR numbers of consumers, we don't have Aadhaar details. We are asking citizens to give their RR numbers and Aadhaar. We will match them back-end and if they match, the scheme will be given to the consumer. Most of the linking has been done in Bescom limits, but not in other Escoms," the official said.

RTI activists say threatened by Palike staff

ENS @Bengaluru

RTI activists launched a scathing attack against BBMP for an alleged threat issued by revenue inspector Venkatesh of Vasanthapura village in Uttarahalli hobli of Bengaluru South.

Veeresh BH from Mahiti Hakku Adhayayana Kendra said Nageshwar Babu, an RTI activist, filed an application at Assistant Revenue Office, Uttarahalli, seeking a certified copy of an approved layout of 5.22 acres on May 2. However, instead of giving information, the activists were harassed by BBMP officials.

"The layout on Survey number 15/2 and 15/3 at Vasanthapura village is illegal, and a burden on BBMP. To prove this, an application was filed by activist Nageshwar Rao, and revenue inspector Venkatesh allegedly called and threatened him to withdraw the application. Following this, an NCR was registered at Jayanagar police station on May 3, and the matter was escalated to Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath. The commissioner asked the special commissioner (administration) to give a report," said Veeresh. Girinath said he received a complaint and asked the official to give a report.

According to officials from the special commissioner's office, BDA files on the layout have NOCs. "We have checked all the documents and there is no mismanagement. However, if examined by the BBMP Special Commissioner for Revenue, there will be more clarity," an official said.

The inspector who is accused of threatening RTI activist Rao, said he is not connected with the case.

Do away with domicile norm for free travel, Reddy asked

ENS @Bengaluru

As the State Government is making preparations to distribute Shakti Smart Cards to women to facilitate them to travel for free in government buses, Bengaluru Bus Prayanikara Vedike (BBPV), a bus commuters' forum, has opposed the move stating it will act as a barrier and exclude many beneficiaries from reaping the benefits of the scheme.

They met Transport Minister Ramalinga Reddy on Wednesday and requested him to stop the smart card distribution and domicile conditions in the free travel scheme.

"The government in its guidelines to implement Shakti scheme has stated that the smart cards will be used to track exact distance travelled by women. To reimburse the cost of the free travel scheme, the government can use the tickets, which is followed by states like Tamil Nadu, Punjab and Delhi. This smart card is said to be linked with Aadhaar and the data will be available on cloud. This will also breach the privacy of a woman, who can be tracked using the card," Vinay Sreenivasa of the forum said.

Also, members of the vedike said that distribution of cards to crores of women in a span of three months is not possible.

They also requested that the domicile requirement to avail the free service be removed as many migrant workers, people who visit the state for education, healthcare, employment and other purposes will be missed out.

Chief Minister Siddaramaiah holds a meeting with former mayors and councillors, in Bengaluru on Wednesday | EXPRESS

Ex-mayors meet CM, want BBMP polls to be held soon

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

A delegation of former Bengaluru City mayors and Congress leaders met Siddaramaiah and appealed to him to conduct polls to the Palike at the earliest and also expressed concern over the 'unscientific' ward delimitation.

It is learnt that Siddaramaiah also expressed interest in holding the election at the earliest and said he will wait for the Supreme Court verdict with regard to the same and will also discuss with the Advocate General in connection with the delimitation issue.

Former mayor Manjunath Reddy said an appeal was made before the chief minister to hold the elections, since there is no elected body in the BBMP from September 2020. "We expressed our concerns with regard to unscientific ward delimitation by the previous BJP government, for which the chief minister said he would speak to the Advocate General," Reddy said.

Former mayor Sampath Raj said that in the election manifesto, the Congress had announced that elections to the BBMP would be held once it came to power. "The CM took our opinion and said he will discuss with Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar and all Bengaluru party MLAs before any decision is announced," he said.

Abdul Wajid, former Opposition leader in the BBMP, stated that close to 50 ex-members of the Bengaluru municipality have urged the CM to announce elections at the earliest.

"We told the CM that it is the right time to hold the BBMP election as the party has come to power and it will be an advantage for Congress. The CM said that based on the court verdict on the BBMP election, and the discussion with the Advocate General, with regard to ward delimitation, further steps will be taken," he informed.

BBMP gets rain-ready with 11k bags of cold mix for potholes

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru

AFTER facing flak from the public last year for pothole-riddled roads and the High Court pulling the city corporation and state government over the safety of motorists and bad roads, Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) has stocked 11,000 bags of cold mix at its integrated parking system in Freedom Park.

An official from the BBMP Road Infrastructure department said the cold mix is ready to fill a pothole in just 10 minutes. There are eight Road Infrastructure zones and each zone will be given 500 bags; each ward will be supplied with 50 bags of cold mix during the monsoon to address pothole issues.

"The cold mix material is being prepared at the Palike's plant, and no private player is involved. Officials are monitoring the process, and based on the demand from each zone, the mix is being supplied. The cold mix bag weighing 10 kg only needs to be emptied into the pothole, and tamped with small rollers, and it's ready in no time. Another advantage is BBMP will not have to stop traffic for pothole filling," said PN Ravindra, Special Commissioner, Road Infrastructure.

Road infrastructure expert Prasad D, project director, India International Infrastructure, expressed satisfaction over the technology and said,

"The cold mix comprises aggregates with bitumen. In this technology, there is no need to heat the bitumen. It is a quick-fix solution, and is good compared to hot mixes and other methods. The cold mix is also durable. If engineers cut a box around the pothole, add solution and pour the cold mix in well, the job is done."

Bengaluru Traffic Police (BTP) welcomed the BBMP's readiness to address the pothole issue. "If cold mix or any other initiative helps in smooth traffic flow and ensures road safety, it is most welcome," said Joint Commissioner (Traffic) MN Anucheth.

08th June : The latest news from the solar system is that we're still looking for water on Mercury. Don't get carried away with thoughts of settling there to tend your vegetables, though. As soon as the Sun rises, the heat will be enough to melt your gardening tools. In fact, we'd all fry!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
From now on, and for the rest of the week, you can afford to be a little more laid back. Wherever possible, introduce a touch of the manyana spirit, and put off as much as you can until tomorrow. Even that might be a little too hurried for some of you!

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
The fact that conditions at work are changing is confusing, but home affairs are still most important. Press ahead with all major schemes; the more outrageous and grandiose they are, the better, at least in theory! Perhaps you should get friends on your side before you really set out to shock.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
There is a great deal to be gained from talking to as many people as possible as much as you can. At the moment, you have no way of judging who is going to come up with the best advice, so go fishing! If you talk to enough people about all your plans, then you might find out who really thinks like you.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Certain events associated with recent Saturn patterns suggest that you might imagine you are trapped in circumstances not of your making. However, if you do feel 'stuck' emotionally, it may be through a situation which you have engineered, albeit unconsciously. In that case, the solution lies in your hands!

You're approaching an important moment of the year, with a turning point in your personal affairs. If you spend as much time as possible on routine matters now, you'll be able to deal with partnerships later on. That's no more than loyal companions deserve.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Life could become busier as the day progresses. This may be because other people are expecting you to clear up after them. Just watch out that you don't stretch yourself so much that you end up flat on your back. You'll be no use to anyone if your energy reserves plummet.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
If there are any outstanding matters at home, or concerning family relationships, be sure to sort them out as soon as you can, otherwise events may move out of your control. Spare some time for sheer pleasure, though, remembering you were put on this planet to enjoy yourself.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
If you're wondering how home and professional affairs can be reconciled, you're already on the right track! The point is that only when you have asked the right questions, will you be able to find the answers. Besides, it's important that you realise that you don't know it all!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
A change of mood should reassure you about financial questions, even if you don't receive any final answers. There is also much to be said for bringing people together who have been apart for too long. You could play the peace-maker or the match-maker, to great applause.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Quite simply, if you want to get the best out of a financial deal, you've got to get your facts straight. There's no point in rushing ahead if you've overlooked certain fundamental details. In matters of the heart there is a continuing need to get in touch with loved ones overseas.

BHUJANG SHETTY'S LEGACY

Rohit Shetty chief of Narayana Nethralaya

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

Dr Rohit Shetty took charge as chairman of Narayana Nethralaya on Wednesday. He had unofficially taken charge after the untimely demise of Dr K Bhujang Shetty, founder chairman and managing director of Narayana Nethralaya.

When health is a challenge today, faith is very important and we will continue to sustain that faith in our patients

Dr Rohit Shetty

Rohit Shetty (48), the son-in-law of Dr Bhujang Shetty, told TNIE that he would take his father-in-law's legacy ahead. When health is a challenge today, faith is very important and we will continue to sustain that faith in our patients, he said.

"As I have done my PhD in advanced therapy, we will also work on strengthening gene editing and gene therapy. We are also developing six to seven new drugs that will reduce the cost of treatment and make it faster. An R&D team of 70 scientists is working on this," he added.

He also aims to take ahead Dr Bhujang Shetty's vision of therapies on genetic and neuro molecules as well as reversing diabetes using food as medicine. Dr Bhujang had been practising the same and there were studies that showed it to be successful. Around 2,000 patients had even enrolled for it.

He added that the hospital will also work on introducing cutting edge technology for better treatment of patients.

Dr Rohit Shetty was the only Indian featured in The Ophthalmologist Power List 2023, and has been practising refractive surgery for 14 years. He has been vice-chairman of the hospital for 12 years before taking over as chairman. He has over 200 publications in peer-reviewed journals and is also a reviewer for many indexed journals. He has worked extensively on pain management after photorefractive keratectomy, the influence of stromal molecular markers on corneal ectasia and risk-scoring systems to predict ectasia after refractive surgery.

'Scan & Share': Seamless way to avail care at govt hosps

Health department aims to reduce patients' waiting time at OPDs by at least 15 to 20 minutes

NAMRATA SINDWANI @Bengaluru

THE Karnataka Health Department plans to focus on technology to create a seamless end-to-end digitised healthcare system to give patients a hassle-free experience while visiting government hospitals. In October 2022, the National Health Authority (NHA), under its flagship scheme Ayushman Bharat Digital Mission (ABDM), introduced the 'scan and share' service for patients for faster registration in outpatient departments (OPDs). The aim was to reduce waiting time for patients at OPDs.

Dr Arun Kumar, deputy director (e-health), said Karnataka is at the forefront in implementing the 'scan and share' service. The state stands second in the country with 8.54 lakh tokens issued till now after Uttar Pradesh (12.7 lakh tokens). Within five months of the launch, the scan and share facility has been implemented in 198 hospitals and this has helped in reducing patients' waiting time by at least 15-20 minutes.

"Our focus now is to invest more in setting up a LAN network, invest more in computer systems and printers as well to create an end-to-end digitised ecosystem wherein doctors, lab technicians, nurses and wards are functioning in synchronisation. The digitised records not only save paper but also provide staff with the patient's complete history for better diagnosis," Dr Kumar added.

The large-scale government hospitals are well facilitated, but more work needs to be done in the taluks and districts and community health centres.

Any patient can scan the QR code using applications like Ayushman Bharat Health Account (ABHA), Aarogya Setu, EkaCare, DRiefcase, Bajaj Health, PayTM and share their ABHA profile (demographic information like name, age, gender, and ABHA number) with the Health Management Information system (HMIS) of the hospital. It allows patients to access their health records on their phone anytime.

The department plans to extend this service to all the 25 district hospitals, 146 taluk level hospitals and 207 community health centres in Karnataka.

However, Dr CN Manjunath, director, Sri Jayadeva Institute of Cardiovascular Sciences and Research (SJICR), has a different opinion. He said Jayadeva Hospital witnesses a daily footfall of 1,300-1,500 patients. Six years back they adopted a similar facility. However, it was not very successful as patients waiting in long queues would end up quarrelling with patients arriving late with an appointment made online.

However, department officials have now ensured that no such issues will arise as separate counters have been set up for availing tokens for the scan facility and volunteers are deployed to assist people.

SATELLITE CITY PLAN

FIVE HI-TECH CITIES TO COME UP ON B'LURU OUTSKIRTS

Officials to identify land to build luxury villas and mark out residential sites

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE State government is planning to develop five hi-tech satellite cities on the outskirts of Bengaluru. Housing Minister Zameer Ahmed directed Karnataka Housing Board (KHB) to prepare a detailed project report, and identify land for the construction of luxury villas. He was conducting a review meeting on Wednesday.

The minister instructed officials to prepare a detailed proposal for the construction of five world-class townships each located on 2,000 acres of land, and build villas on the lines of the private sector to meet the demand for housing. He told them to identify land at the earliest.

Explaining the design, Zameer told officials to prepare the housing scheme to make provision for 30,000 residential sites, and build 5,000 houses in each satellite city. Together, the scheme would have 1.5 lakh sites and 25,000 houses located amid nature. "KHB must not seek profit while preparing housing schemes for the poor, and there must be no compromise on the quality of work," he said.

Zameer said development of satellite towns is inevitable to reduce pressure on the city. The satellite cities would come up keeping in mind connectivity, including the Metro. "Since Bengaluru has gained an international reputation, many industrialists and VVIPs from other countries are moving to the city. There is a lot of demand for villas on the city outskirts. The project will be implemented on 50:50 partnership with landowners, so that land acquisition cost will not become a burden on the Housing Board," he added.

K'taka can earn a lot from its surplus power, but infrastructure a concern

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AS part of Congress' pre-poll guarantee, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah recently announced that households consuming less than 200 units of electricity per month will be given free power, which is calculated based on the average of consumption over the last one year and 10 per cent extra.

The new scheme will come into effect from August 1 and the programme will cost the state exchequer Rs 25,000 crore. The state has 1.61 crore households and around 2.14 crore power meters in the domestic segment. With the free power guarantee, a large portion of all domestic consumption and all of the agriculture sector will no longer pay any money to electricity supply companies.

SM Jaamdar, former additional chief secretary who also served as MD of KPTCL, said, "To create a conducive environment for all the stakeholders -- energy generators, transmitters and distributors, whether they are private or government -- by providing robust infrastructure, it is imperative for the government to develop a policy to give the power sector, which is technology based, much needed fillip. This opens up the possibility of making public private participation inclusive."

As per a report released by the Institute of Energy Economics and Financial Analysis in February 2023, even when the whole country was battling a severe power crisis in 2022, due to coal shortage, Karnataka was largely unaffected as its dependency on thermal power is less than 40 per cent.

The Centre, to connect the power grids of all states with the National Power Grid, has approved the Inter-State Transmission System (ISTS) - Green Energy Corridor Phase 2. The total estimated cost of this project is Rs 12,000 crore, of which the Centre will fund 33 percent. The Centre aims to make the country's power supply system world-class to eradicate the problem of load shedding and power shortage.

One of the projects includes the 400 KV Udupi-Kasaragod Transmission Line (UKTL) to-supply electricity to Kasaragod in Kerala through Udupi and Dakshina Kannada. UKTL is a Tariff Based Competitive Bidding Project (TBCB) for the Centre's ISTS project to provide a solution that will add to Karnataka's earnings from power surplus and address electricity shortage problems in north Kerala.

The interesting part is that the construction of requisite transmission towers in Kerala has been completed, but the work in Karnataka is yet to begin. Though adequate efforts have been made to kickstart the project, requisite surveys are yet to be done. Some experts believe that the lack of support in Karnataka could be due to inadequate understanding about the benefits of the project which has the potential to bring in revenues to the state to the tune of Rs 2,500 crore with a target of Rs 6,500 crore.

The demand for reliable power is only going to increase and the local geography will benefit from the availability of a robust power corridor to match the incremental demand. The availability of transmission infrastructure will induce power generation companies to set up generation plants in the vicinity of transmission infrastructure. Dakshin Kannada region is constantly facing challenges of low voltage which could be resolved once the UKTL transmission line is completed which will bring additional capacity for the region as well as for Kerala.

Karnataka needs to make more efforts and prioritise the construction of high-power transmission lines. If that happens, more revenue will come to the state's coffers, study reports say.

'Villagers stopped paying bills'

THE sangha leaders gave a call to the villagers not to pay their power bills till they get proper supply. However, the villagers stopped paying their bills though they have been receiving proper power supply after the agitation, Venkanna Malali of Shirol village said.

Meanwhile, sources said many new houses and commercial establishments have come up at Shirol with owners themselves getting electricity meters and cables installed without approval from the department concerned.

Land, APMC Acts will be reviewed: CM

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Congress government is likely to review the existing Acts pertaining to the agriculture sector, such as the Land Reforms Act, APMC Act and the Karnataka Prevention of Cow Slaughter and Cattle Preservation Act.

On Wednesday, a group of farmer leaders met Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, and the latter assured them to review the amendments to these laws. A release from the Chief Minister's Office said that farmer leaders expressed concern that the small and very small farmers, who constitute more than 85 per cent of all farmers, will be affected by the Centre's decision to allegedly introduce corporate agriculture.

Siddaramaiah assured them that a separate meeting will be held to discuss the Union government's policies in detail. He said they will also discuss the regulations required for the development of the agriculture sector, while further assuring that an appropriate decision will be taken after discussing matters with farmer leaders.

Cong may win all 3 MLC seats, to pick Boseraju, Chinchansur

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @ Bengaluru

CONGRESS is likely to win all the three Legislative Council seats, for which the polls will be held on June 30, and the new Council members will be elected by MLAs. The Election Commission of India issued the notification for the polls on Tuesday.

Since the term of the three vacating MLCs is different, the polls will be held separately for each vacant seat, but on the same day with the same poll notification.

Congress is likely to pick Minor Irrigation and Science & Technology Minister NS Boseraju, who is not a member of both the Houses, and former minister Baburao Chinchansur, who had resigned from his MLC post on March 20, 2023. Chinchansur's term was to end on June 17, 2024.

But the third seat has not been decided yet and it will be interesting to see who the ruling party chooses, specially for the seat that was vacated by former deputy chief minister Laxman Savadi, who had his term till June 13, 2028 and quit on April 13, 2023.

All the three Council seats fell vacant after sitting MLCs, despite their terms not ending anytime soon, had quit to contest the Assembly polls. Apart from Chinchansur and Savadi, R Shankar was the other Council member who tried his luck at the hustings. In the polls, only Savadi emerged victorious from Athani. Chinchansur lost from Gurmitkal, while Shankar, who was contesting as an NCP candidate, was defeated in Ranebennur. Shankar, who had his term up to June 30, 2026, had tendered his resignation on April.12, 2023. The party may choose Boseraju for the longest MLC term as he is the minister, sources said.

The names of former chief minister Jagadish Shettar, former minister Umashri, leaders BL Shankar, VL Sudarshan, Ivan D'souza, Laksman, Kavitha Reddy, Puspha Amaranath, Manjula Manasa among others are doing the rounds.

'State has 2.16 cr home consumers'

GEORGE said tenants or those living in houses on lease are eligible for Gruha Jyothi. They should submit their voter ID details, Aadhaar, rental/ lease documents or other government ID cards. It is important that all RR numbers are linked to Aadhaar cards and one person should have one RR number to qualify for the scheme.

He said there are 2.16 crore domestic consumers in the state. Of them, 2.14 crore consumers' monthly average power consumption is 53 units, who will benefit from this scheme. There are two lakh consumers whose power consumption is above 200 units. "If a person's bill for one month is above 200 units, then he will have to pay the full charge. And the bill will be Zero if it is below 200 units, consistently for an average of 12 months. The consumer will have to apply for it and the teams will check all details before giving approval for the service. Offering this subsidy would cost the government around Rs 13,000 crore and the government will bear the cost, despite the rise in power tariff," George said.

Min retracts criticism of guarantees

ENS @ Bengaluru

AT a time when the Congress government led by Siddaramaiah has issued guidelines for implementation of the five guarantees, a video clip of Agriculture Minister N Cheluvarayaswamy went viral, in which he termed the guarantees "cheap popularity" with an agenda of winning elections.

He was candid about it at one of his recent press conferences, and came as an embarrassment for the Congress government. Interestingly, none including Siddaramaiah and his cabinet colleagues have replied to his remark, "Results (winning the polls) were inevitable so that we could deliver the goods only if our government came to power. So, we went with cheap popularity schemes regardless of the repercussions. Whether Siddaramaiah likes it or not, willingly or unwillingly, we had to accept these and move on."

He had also claimed that the guarantees were discussed across the country and within Congress party circles on the lines that "promising freebies was not a good development". But on Wednesday, Cheluvarayaswamy retracted his statement, dubbing it a "non-issue" when the Congress government is implementing all the guarantees it promised in the run-up to the assembly polls.

"Have not we (Congress) implemented the guarantees that we promised? But there was a feeling among the people that it is too much, and a situation like Tamil Nadu (where freebies are a norm) may prevail. Has the BJP implemented any of the freebies? Let them make the video clip viral or do anything else they want to do," he shot back at reporters.

This criticism of Congress policies by the Nagamangala MLA found resonance among BJP sympathisers. "Winning the election is important by throwing false hopes at the public using the state budget in an unsustainable way... Not for development but for freebies. Every person has paid tax. It could have been used for upgrading government hospitals since hospitals are used by everyone... It could be used for upgrading schools...," said a social media user.

FKCCI wants power hike deferred until economy improves

BENGALURU: The Federation of Karnataka Chambers of Commerce and Industry (FKCCI) has urged the state government to defer its power hike move till normalcy returns in the economy. FKCCI president BV Gopal Reddy stated in a release that the hike in power tariff has distressed the industry and trade sector in Karnataka, which are reeling under a range of challenges amidst local and global factors that are beyond their control. Further, Reddy said that the power bill for the current month being higher by Rs 2.89 per unit, has come as a dampener as it will increase the prices of products and services and reduce their profit margin. He said feedback from their members and industrialists reveals that some of the most vulnerable segments, such as micro and small-scale industries and small traders, are finding it difficult even to survive due to high input costs. "If recurring costs like power go up, they may even be forced to shut their unit or shop," he said. He added that those operating in the neighbourhood of other states may even explore possibilities of shifting to the other states where such costs are lesser. "We therefore appeal to the government to first talk to representatives of industry and trade, understand their situation and only then consider such issues of tariff revision," he added. Reddy also said the industry and trade sector are not against the five welfare measures of the government as promised to the people. FKCCI has cautioned that the increase in fiscal expenditure should not be at the cost of the industry, which was only managing to sustain itself. "Any additional burden on the industry will end up as a tipping point for it to take hard measures like shutting shop, shifting operations to other states or reduce intake of labour, thus fuelling unemployment," the statement said.

FAROOQ CALLS ON SIDDARAMAIAH, GOWDA, HINTS AT ANTI-BJP PACT

ENS @ Bengaluru

NATIONAL Conference chief and former Jammu and Kashmir chief minister Farooq Abdullah called on Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and former prime minister H D Deve Gowda here on Wednesday.

Though the visit is being observed as a courtesy call, political circles were abuzz with speculation that Abdullah sought the support of both the leaders to forge an anti-BJP alliance ahead of the 2024 general election. He had in fact attended the swearing-in ceremony of Siddaramaiah on May 20, along with other Opposition leaders, including NCP's Sharad Pawar and JDU chief and Bihar CM Nitish Kumar. It is in this wake that Abdullah's visit though looks like a norm with regard to Siddaramaiah, his meeting with JDS supremo Deve Gowda has something to do with politics. The JDS has kept its options open for forging an alliance with any of the parties and it will depend upon its performance in the BBMP and ZP/TP polls that the party leadership has been focusing on, according to sources.

"My dear friend, the former Chief Minister of Jammu & Kashmir, Shri Farooq Abdullah, came to see me today, at my residence. He enquired after my health. I am very grateful to him for having come all the way. We discussed the happenings in the country, especially Kashmir. My sincere good wishes are with Farooq sahib and the people of J&K, who gave me a lot of love and affection when I was Prime Minister(Sic)," tweeted Deve Gowda.

"Former Chief Minister of Jammu and Kashmir Shri Farooq Abdullah met me & congratulated me. We discussed various issues of national importance and how Karnataka can be a strong partner in nation building & fostering peace," tweeted Siddaramaiah.

BJP teams to tour state to spur cadre for LS election

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

FOUR to five teams of senior BJP leaders, including former chief minister BS Yediyurappa and Basavraj Bommai, former ministers R Ashoka, Govinda Karjol and KS Eshwarappa, state party president Nalin Kateel and others, will start a statewide tour to help the party recover the lost ground ahead of the zilla and taluk panchayat, BBMP and Lok Sabha elections.

BJP leaders told The New Indian Express that they will go in teams of two each to meet the party cadres and district leaders. While preliminary meetings have been held, the final meeting is expected soon to decide which leaders will go to which areas. Each team is expected to cover six districts.

The teams will try to dispel the impression that BJP is not with the Lingayat community as it cost the party dear in the Assembly polls. Karjol said, "We will take it up in the party and decide which team goes where. The time is now for the party to regroup, strategise and fight back."

Eshwarappa said, "We will meet our party workers across the state and interact with them." Meanwhile, BJP national general secretary, Karnataka in-charge, Arun Singh, national general secretary CT Ravi and others will be present at a legislature party meeting on Thursday morning. What is interesting is that the leaders will hold separate meetings with losing candidates in the afternoon. The core committee meeting is in the evening.

The party will get feedback from the cadres on choosing the opposition leader and party president, whose names will be finalised soon. While former CM Basavaraj Bommai is the clear frontrunner for the opposition leader's post and enjoys good support, many are opposed to him and they may back alternative candidates. While Lingayat leader Basanagouda Patil Yatnal has caste on his side, he may be lacking on other fronts. Some suggested that a Vokkaliga leader too may be picked, considering that the BJP has done well in Mandya and Old Mysore areas. If that happens, Dr CN Ashwath Narayan and R Ashoka are in the lead.

Govt will accept caste census report, says CM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah on Wednesday said the state government will accept the socio-economic survey report prepared by the Karnataka State Permanent Backward Classes Commission and facilities will be given to various communities based on the data.

The survey was conducted to avail scientific and accurate information, which is essential for providing reservation and other facilities, the CM said. He was speaking to members of a delegation of Karnataka Shoshitha Vargagala Maha Okkuta that met him at his home office 'Krishna'.

The socio-economic survey or the caste census will provide the necessary data for taking appropriate decisions about the facilities to be provided to people. The CM said the confusion created by the BJP government in the reservation will be resolved to provide social justice. In the run-up to the polls, the Congress had opposed the BJP government's decision to do away with the 4 per cent reservation for Muslims and had promised to restore it after coming to power.

The socio-economic survey report or the caste census was commissioned by the Congress government headed by Siddaramaiah in 2015. The report was prepared by spending Rs 162 crore and was not ready when the Congress government's tenure ended in 2018, and it was not accepted by the subsequent governments.

The survey was supposed to get all the details about the castes, their socio-economic status, their standard of living, and other details, and it was aimed at providing representation and benefits to communities based on their population.

Over 150 representatives of different unions belonging to various castes, headed by KM Ramachandrappa, met the CM on Wednesday.

Andhra Pradesh Chief Minister YS Jagan Mohan Reddy on Wednesday dismissed reports that his government would not go in for early elections. Making it clear that the Assembly polls would be held as per schedule, he urged his Cabinet colleagues to reach out to people in the next 9 months

CBI collects data logger, mobile phones of Bahanaga rly station

ASISH MEHTA @ Bhubaneswar

THE Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) on Wednesday collected the data logger of Bahanaga railway station where a horrific train mishap, one of India's deadliest, involving three trains, claimed at least 288 lives on June 2.

Data logger, considered the black box of railways, monitors and records all activities and events in the signalling system of a railway station. It helps find the mistakes committed by signal operators, loco pilots and malfunction of signaling systems.

The CBI team which began investigation yesterday took possession of the data logger from Balasore GRP which had earlier registered a case in connection with the mishap. It is yet to be ascertained whether the CBI seized the data logger from the GRP or took a copy of it. Sources said the GRP is yet to receive an official order that the investigation has been taken over by the CBI. Until that, the central agency cannot officially hand over all the records related to the case to the probe agency.

The CBI officers along with technical and forensic experts visited the accident site to examine the up main/loop lines. They also inspected the panel room. Sources said the central agency's officers have also seized mobile phones of the station manager and a few other staff who were on duty on the fateful night.

A team of officers of the CBI also visited ADG, Railways Dayal Gangwar's office in Bhubaneswar on the day. GRP case's IO was also called to ADG Railways office.

EMPTY RAIL RAKES ROLL, MOW DOWN SIX LABOURERS IN ODISHA

JAJPUR/BHUBANESWAR: Six labourers were mowed down by empty rakes of an engine-less monsoon reserve train at Jajpur-Keonjhar Road railway station in Jajpur district on Wednesday. The incident occurred at about 5.15 pm when the labourers were taking shelter under the stationary empty rakes after a Nor'wester hit the area. Locals said, the rakes moved, apparently under impact of the rain and gusty wind, running over the labourers. As many as seven labourers working on a railway project on daily wage basis had got under the stationary rakes. Six were killed while another was injured critically. The deceased were identified as Prasant Jena (40), Goutam Samal (55), Manas Samal (35), Bhima Jena (45), Dola Gobinda Pradhan and Susanta Jena (40). Jajpur collector Chakravarti Singh Rathore reached the spot and took stock of the situation. He said, the cause of mishap would be inquired by the Railway authorities. ENS

'Textbooks distributed for this academic year'

ACCORDING to sources in the Education Department, a circular on the revision will be issued soon. But since textbooks have already been distributed to students, no proper revision will take place now.

"Textbooks have already been distributed for this academic year, so revisions are unlikely to take place as the minister stated that classes should not be disrupted. However, teachers will be instructed to omit those lessons," the sources said.

Ahead of the 2022-23 academic year, state syllabus textbooks were revised. Most notable and controversial of the revision was the inclusion of a chapter of the RSS founder in Class 10 Kannada textbook. The then Opposition Congress strongly criticised the move accusing the BJP government of encouraging "saffronisation" of education at the school-level.

Linganamakki can produce power for next 20 days

RAMACHANDRA V GUNARI @ Shivamogga

POWER can be generated for just another 20-22 days with the existing available water in the Linganamakki reservoir, and it can be continued only if monsoon hits the catchment areas of the dam before that. Sources said the water level at the reservoir on Monday was 1,746.90 feet against the maximum of 1,819 feet. The minimum drawdown level (MDDL) is 1,724 ft and further extraction can be extended till 1,715 ft.

Water from the reservoir is used to generate power at four different units — Sharavathi Generation Station, Linganamakki Powerhouse, Mahatma Gandhi Hydroelectric Project and Gerusoppa station. The sources said power generation at the Linganamakki powerhouse stops if the water level reaches 1,743 ft and at the Sharavathi station at 1,724 ft. As of Monday, only 16 tmcft of water was available at the reservoir.

The sources said 285 million units of power can be generated with the available water. Every day, 12 million units of power is being generated from all the four power stations with the Linganamakki Powerhouse alone contributing 9 million units. The decreased water level has also hit the movement of people in Holebagilu and Siganduru as two launch services have been stopped in the backwaters.

The Meteorological department has said monsoon is yet to hit Kerala. The rain is likely in Malnad region over the next eight to 10 days and only then power generation can resume at these power projects.

Bandipur foresters capture 'rogue' tusker

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mysuru

AFTER five days of massive combing operation, foresters of the Bandipur Tiger Reserve succeeded in capturing a tusker which had trampled a villager to death and had also destroyed crops grown in several acres in Kundukere and Gopalaswamy Betta forest fringe villages.

The elephant had raided several agricultural fields in Kebbepura, Hundipura, Chowdahalli, Jakkahalli, Mangala, Yelechetti and Chikkayelechetti villages coming under Kundukere and GS Betta ranges and had destroyed the standing crops causing huge loss to the farmers since last one year.

The elephant was captured after a five-day combing operation

The tusker had also trampled a villager to death at Shivapura village on June 15, 2022, besides entering several farmhouses and damaging the properties. The tusker had regularly raided paddy fields on forest fringe villages. The villagers, who were disappointed by the constant raids by the tusker destroying their crops, held an indefinite protest at Hundipura village from May 15, 2023. During the protest, the villagers submitted a memorandum to foresters urging them to capture the tusker at the earliest.

BTR director P Ramesh Kumar said based on the request from the villagers, a permission was sought from the PCCF (Wildlife) to capture the pachyderm.

Teams were formed to trace the tusker's movements. Even drones were used to locate it and the jumbo was traced to Guddekere forest area. Camp elephants, Harsha and Dhananjay from Dubare camp in Madikeri Wildlife Division, Gajendra from K Gudi in Biligiri Rangaswamy Temple (BRT) Tiger Reserve and Parthasarathy and Jayaprakash from Rampura camp in Bandipur Tiger Reserve were summoned for the operation.

KFON HERALDS PUBLIC INTERNET IN KERALA

The Kerala government, earlier this week, launched the Kerala Fibre Optical Network (KFON), thus becoming the first state in India to have its own internet service. Kerala was also the first state to declare the right to the internet as a basic right. One of the flagship projects envisaged during the first term of the Pinarayi Vijayan-led LDF government, KFON aims to reduce the digital divide by ensuring high-speed broadband internet access to all houses and government offices. In the first stage, the state government aims to provide connectivity to 30,000 government offices and 14,000 BPL families in the state for free. On June 5, the day of its launch, connectivity was provided to 17,412 government offices and 2,105 BPL houses, and a cable network was laid down to connect 9,000 houses.

Though KFON is being portrayed as the CPM's commitment to the public sector, it may be noted that KFON infrastructure will also benefit private service providers as the cable network will be accessible to them too. While it is indeed an act of showcasing the Left Government's alternative model of development, what prompted the government is the fact that the existing telecom companies have only limited infrastructure in rural areas, and they are offering only limited bandwidth. And private companies are reluctant to enhance connectivity infrastructure as it will not be profitable for them. One major highlight of KFON is that it will ensure internet connection for 20 lakh families below the poverty line. In the first phase, as many as 14,000 BPL families would get access to high-speed internet free of cost. With time, 100 BPL families in each of the state's 140 assembly constituencies will be selected for this scheme.

KFON is also a classic example of what can be achieved if the state and Union governments work together. The Union Department of Telecommunications quickly provided Infrastructure Provider (category one) licence and the Internet Service Provider licence (category B) to KFON. This IP licence allowed the network to obtain fibre optic lines, towers, duct space, network, and other infrastructural facilities to establish an optic fibre network. As the state government has set the ball rolling, it must ensure it achieves the target on time. For, the project is expected to accelerate the state's journey towards becoming a numero uno knowledge-based economy.

DRIVERS MUST REALISE SPEED THRILLS BUT KILLS

A series of ghastly accidents on Karnataka's highways claimed several lives over the past fortnight, throwing up many questions: Are highways safe? Or are drivers at fault? Are they unable to handle powerful vehicles on smooth roads which tempt them to speed? Or is it a casual disregard for highway rules? Whether a single road in the interiors or a 10-lane expressway, horrific accidents are becoming common, often due to human error – advertent and inadvertent. Speeding, racing, risky overtaking, overcrowding of vehicles and a failure to adhere to rules are the most common causes of highway crashes. Transport officials admit that 70 per cent of road accidents are due to overspeeding and 90 per cent due to human error. Coupled with this is the disregard for safety measures like wearing seatbelts and lane discipline. Casual lane jumping is the cardinal sin which puts lives at risk.

One of the achievements of the Narendra Modi government is the network of excellent highways across the country, which require matching driving skills, especially as car manufacturers are developing more powerful engines and foreign car makers are bringing their best wares. That can make for a deadly combination. And drivers must remember that with great speed comes great responsibility. The compliance with strapping on seatbelts is of recent origin. While those in the front seats do it willy-nilly, backseat passengers ignore this safety measure. Until the accident which claimed billionaire Cyrus Mistry in September 2022 on the Mumbai-Ahmedabad Expressway, the seatbelt did not get its due importance. Neither was it widely known that airbags do not deploy if the seatbelt is not strapped on.

Unfortunately, a casual attitude is inherent in us and our systems. How driving licences are doled out to youngsters exemplifies the lax attitude towards safety. Driving schools and touts play a big role in the process, with driving tests often perfunctory -- a far cry from the stringent testing done by transport authorities in many countries. This casualness is apparent in our daily driving routines, where even wearing helmets has to be enforced with strict fines.

Compounding this attitude are superbike and supercar enthusiasts who turn into social media influencers, like YouTuber Agastya Chauhan, who crashed his bike in an attempt to touch 300 kmph. Highway drivers must realise that speed is an uncontrollable demon and step back into the slow and safe lane.

QUICK TAKE

TAKING TO E-COOKING

The government moots India gradually access clean cooking energy. A transition to electric cooking backs the rationale for a sustainable economy and safe environment. Many urban households already embrace e-cooking, though gas remains the primary fuel. States with higher subsidies may witness faster adoption of e-cooking, freeing up resources to meet growing LPG demand in the countryside. Electric stoves are cheaper and easier to maintain, though useless during power outages. The government must ensure a reliable power supply at reasonable rates to drive the transition, requiring investing in additional power load. And e-cookers and induction stoves must have quality control certifications.

Science is the instrument of human follies and also the remedial tool that rescues us from their consequences

SCIENCE MUST HAVE A GPS FOR GLOBAL GOOD

K SRINATH REDDY

Cardiologist, epidemiologist and Distinguished Professor of Public Health, PHFI

Recent media reports on scientific achievements and controversies have evoked excitement and apprehension. At a time of great concern about anti-microbial resistance, artificial intelligence (AI) has helped to identify a new antibiotic which is very effective. At the same time, the runaway success of Chat GPT and its doppelgängers has led to several scientists voicing fears about AI's unregulated development posing a real threat of human extinction. Even as Covid-19 appears to have become less fierce in its onslaught on humanity, a senior Chinese scientist has been quoted as saying that a 'lab leak' cannot be ruled out as the origin of the pandemic.

Science has been a powerful propellant for humanity's progress. It has become the instrument of human follies and also the remedial tool that rescues us from their consequences. Anti-microbial resistance has become a major threat to human survival and well-being, as several multi-drug resistant microbes have emerged through antibiotic misuse. The prospect of finding potent novel antibiotics appeared dim till it was announced recently that artificial intelligence (AI) helped to identify a new antibiotic (again) that is highly effective against the pathogenic bacterium acitenobacterbaumanii. AI can greatly assist drug discovery and novel drug design to advance the treatment of many diseases. AI is enhancing the efficiency and quality of diagnostic and management algorithms for clinical care, apart from capturing data from across the world to create more widely generalisable applications.

Yet, AI can also become a menace if its runaway development escapes from human control and, worse still, if it can manipulate humans and lead them to conflict and self-harm. Dozens of scientists, including the creators of AI, have warned of potential perils in a statement posted on the web page of the Centre for AI Safety. "Mitigating the risk of extinction from AI should be a global priority alongside other societal-scale risks such as pandemics and nuclear war", they wrote. These, indeed, are three threats to the safety and survival of humanity.

Even the Covid-19 pandemic presented two faces of science. On the one hand, there was a remarkable strength of science on display -- in the identification and genomic characterisation of the novel pathogenic microbe, mapping the modes of transmission, development and testing of vaccines and identification of effective drugs. However, there was also the revelation that 'gain of function studies' were being conducted on the SARS CoV-2 virus in the Wuhan laboratory, with international funding. The ostensible purpose was to induce mutations in a naturally occurring coronavirus and to study the potential for increased infectivity, enhanced virulence and greater prowess for immune escape. This was purportedly for the purpose of anticipating possible mutations and preparing new vaccines and drugs to counter them. Even a slight lapse in biosecurity could have triggered a 'lab leak' to trigger a pandemic. Did it happen in Wuhan? We do not know. Can it happen? Alarmingly, yes.

Besides running the risk of causing an unintended leak, scientists are also powerless to prevent such artificially engineered microbes from being accessed and misused by autocratic despots, military dictators and dangerous terrorists. Biological warfare and bioterrorism pose existential threats to humanity. Scientists should not stray into terrains laden with such landmines, which they can neither spot nor diffuse before they explode.

The analogy of nuclear weapons is apt. Leo Szilard was a Hungarian emigre scientist in the United States. A highly accomplished physicist, he developed the technique of nuclear chain reaction, which became the basis for atomic weapons. He persuaded Albert Einstein to lead the effort to develop nuclear weapons during the Second World War. Later, however, he insisted that they only demonstrate their destructive potential through tests to frighten the Japanese into ending World War II, but never use it against civilians in cities. He organised a petition, signed by 70 scientists, to caution President Truman against such mass destruction.

The petition, dated July 17, 1945, warned: "The development of atomic power will provide the nation with new means of destruction. The atomic bombs at our disposal represent only the first step in this direction, and there is almost no limit to the destructive power which will become available in the course of their future development.". The government of the US did not pay heed. Hiroshima was devastated by an atomic bomb on August 6, 1945.

While technologies greatly aid in advancing human civilisation, they can be treacherous if they spell danger to humans or the environment. Sometimes, this is not foreseen. Thomas Midgley was a famous American chemist who invented two things which were hailed at that time as great technological breakthroughs – leaded petrol for automobiles and chlorofluorocarbons (CFCs) as a refrigerant. Both proved to be disastrous over time. Fumes from leaded petrol damaged human brains, blood, bones and kidneys. CFCs created big holes in the ozone layer of the Earth's atmosphere. Midgley was later denounced as one who maximally harmed the environment. Little did Midgley anticipate these harms when he initially wore a hero's halo.

Unlike Midgley, today's scientists are aware of the dangers that unbridled technologies pose - be it AI, genetic manipulation of microbes or the creation of weapons of mass destruction. Scientific breakthroughs must not result in the breakdown of human security. Science must gift harmony to society, not harm. Apart from intelligence and enterprise, scientists must be guided by a moral compass. Society must collectively set the codes for that GPS so that scientists and techno-entrepreneurs are not blinded by arrogance or ambition to drive human civilisation over the cliff and into an abyss.

LANGUAGE-POLICING OR WEEDING OUT HYPERLOCAL ENGLISHES

KAJAL BASU

Veteran journalist

In March this year, the 81-year-old UK-based international charity organisation that works with 15 million people in 80 countries, many of them low- or middle-income and bedevilled by conflict, became the apotheosis of linguistic wokeness. Over 92 finger-wagging pages, its Inclusive Language Guide, two years in the making, advised speakers of English –"the language of a colonising nation" – to omit a sheaf of words from everyday parlance and rework others in keeping with political correctness (PC).

Much of this PC could only have emerged from the cocooned navel-gazing of champions of wokeness in the putative domains of English – the UK and the US. None of them seems to have the faintest inkling of the existence today of many Englishes, mostly local and even hyperlocal, across the world.

England is spoken by 1.5 billion of Earth's 7.8 billion residents – or nearly 20% of the population. The vast majority of these people speak a scintillating diversity of Englishes, some of them cheek-by-jowl with canonical English, most of them an inch away from being mutually unintelligible, separated by hybridisation with local vernaculars, homologation, playful or fluid syntacticity, and pronunciation.

Here's a compacted list of words and phrases that Oxfam would like turfed out. "...is afflicted with, suffers from, is a victim of, wheelchair-bound, normal, healthy, able-bodied, AIDS victim, MS sufferer, the elderly, seniors, youth, people who have special needs, mental, mental patient, psychotic, OCD, manic depressive, standing with, committed suicide, unsuccessful suicide, care burden, the burden of care, decent work, child marriage, early marriage, labour force, prostitute, prostitution, use of prostitutes, use of sex workers, attitudes, behaviours, women and children, ladies, women's economic empowerment/WEE, biological male/female, male/female bodied', 'natal male/female' and born male/female, gender minorities, LGBT, LGBTQIX, homosexuality, gay and lesbian, 'mother' or 'father', 'he' or 'she' based on their name or physical appearance, transgendered, transsexual, pro-life, sanitary products, feminine hygiene, expectant mothers, VAWG (violence against women and girls), victim, victim of rape, illegal immigrant, economic migrant, expat, transit migrant, refugee crisis, upstream/upwards accountability, downwards accountability, mixed race, black, capacity building, empowerment, Indians, Eskimo, Aboriginal, the West, third world, first world, developing countries, developed countries, the homeless, black market, slum, slum dwellers, international aid sector, ethnic minority, local language, local people, local population, local knowledge, local staff, headquarters, natural disasters, poor people, BAME, BME, beneficiaries, recipients, vulnerable people, giving a voice to, helping, field visit/field trip/mission".

There happen to be a handful of words that can undoubtedly do with replacement with more appropriate terminology: such as humankind for mankind; low income, middle income, and high income for a developed country, developing country, underdeveloped countries, third world; Global North for the West; workers for workmen; workforce for manpower (although they might not actually be blessed with PC synonymity); spokesperson for spokesman; domestic worker or help for a domestic servant; visually impaired for blind; etc.

Englishes in the Global South mostly run on their own syntactic steam, and adhering to the rapidly evolving linguistic principles of the developed world is the least of the concerns of these Englishes

Then, again, these prescriptions are littered with pitfalls (and pratfalls). 'Visually-impaired justice' does not have the communicability of 'blind justice'. 'Underdeveloped nations' are intersectionally wanting in terms of the UNDP's Human Development Index (HDI) and not merely 'low income' (which is why the latter term conveys so little and with such marginal attention to complex socio-politico-economics).

The Oxfam report attracted (as was expected) a tumult of brickbats, mostly for being purblind (there, I breached the PC wall) to reality and complexities and context. (Oxfam had attempted to fob off criticism at the gates by acknowledging that "this guide has its origin in English" and "the Anglo-supremacy of the sector as part of its coloniality".)

Women's rights activists have criticised the advice to edit out 'mother' and 'father'. (Oxfam's rather contorted explanation: "In patriarchal culture, social norms around gender result in designated roles for parents that reflect expectations of that gender. Some transgender and non-binary people may identify with these roles. However, some may prefer to use other names to designate parenthood.") 'Parents' indicates plurality. 'Parent', while technically accurate, does not carry the descriptive weight of 'mother' and 'father'. Even in single-parent families, children assign the role according to the perceived gender of the parent.

So, what exactly is at work here? Who is the Oxfam report addressing? The report devotes an inordinate number of pages to transpersons and their linguistic determinants – issues centred in the Global North, the fount of the charitability that is Oxfam's credo, and of considerably less weight in the donee countries of the Global South, where, in many cases, alternative sexuality is embedded in traditional cultures, and words and terms already exist in the vernaculars, not sufficiently woke perhaps, but descriptive and even accepting. Englishes in the Global South mostly run on their own syntactic steam, and adhering to the rapidly-evolving and momentary and even capricious linguistic principles of the so-called developed world is the least of the concerns of these Englishes.

Oxfam suggested that these guidelines were not rules or restrictions – but, then, went on to highlight that "silence is violence" (as if speaking is not) and that "personal is political" (misreading the phrase, "the personal is political", popularised by the American feminist Carol Hanisch in 1970, by leaving out the leading article). Hanisch's statement is also read as "the private is political", which sort of puts paid to Oxfam's assertion.

In short, Oxfam is language policing – of the tertiary forms of English (dialects, topolects, even literary idiolects) – in the service of the origin language and utter acontextuality.

Job guarantee

Apropos of Guarantees Must Aim At Creating Jobs (June 7). As rightly emphasised in the editorial, employment is a sine qua non for the financial sustenance of households, especially those headed by women. Several small-scale industries have been closed down in recent times in Karnataka. The State Government should assist in reviving those cottage and small-scale industries to increase the employment opportunities for women in rural areas.

Safe environment

Apropos of More passion, investment needed for a green future (June 7). Developed countries persuading developing countries to minimise the use of pollutants is like Satan citing the Scripture. The various global conventions have become just a formality and as a result harmful chemicals have entered into various food chains, disturbing the ecological equilibrium itself, as rightly pointed out in the editorial.

Vibrant democracy

Democracy is vibrant in India. The White House praise for Indian democracy is a tight-slap on Rahul Gandhi who has been crying hoarse over democracy being in peril. But Prime Minister Narendra Modi's relationship with Barack Obama, Donald Trump and now with Joe Biden is quite cordial.

Longer loops

Nowadays, the railways are running lengthy goods and passenger trains with enhanced speeds. The loop lines at stations also must be lengthened far beyond their present length on either side. The incoming train (loco) pilots must have sufficient distance and time to see if the loop line is occupied by a stationary train (at the station). In the event of a train wrongly entering the loop line due to any signalling error, the driver will then have time to apply brakes to avert collisions.

Ratioanalise costs

Kerala Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan has told the bureaucrats to prioritise spending and rationalise expenditure (June 7). In this context, it must be said that the Chief Minister and his Cabinet colleagues should lead by example. After all, charity begins at home.

Cyclone Biparjoy may weaken monsoon

Rain may hit Kerala coast in next 48 hours but it will not be as robust & forceful, says expert

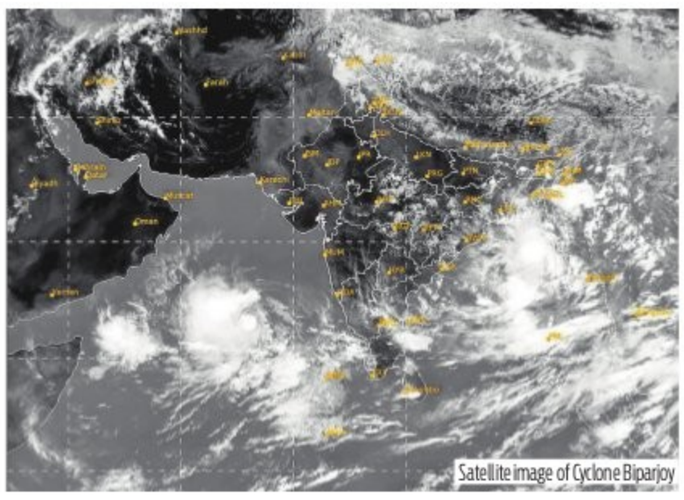
JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ New Delhi

THE conditions of the onset of southwest monsoon are favourable and may hit the Kerala coast in the next 48 hours. Indian Meteorological Department (IMD) initially predicted the onset of the monsoon on June 4.

However, experts suggested that the monsoon's impact might get weakened as it makes its way to the mainland due to the presence of the severe cyclonic storm 'Biparjoy' in the southeast Arabian Sea. The weakened monsoon can have negative implications for Indian agriculture which is a crucial driver of the country's economy.

Scientists expressed concerns regarding the increasing number of cyclones in the Arabian Sea which subsequently affects the Indian monsoon. Studies have indicated that the frequency, intensity and duration of cyclones in the Arabian Sea have significantly risen due to climate change.

According to a report titled 'Changing Status of Tropical Cyclones in the North Indian Ocean,' the number of cyclones in the Arabian Sea has witnessed a 52 per cent increase, while the occurrence of very severe cyclones has risen by 150 per cent. The duration of very severe cyclones has escalated by 260 per cent.



Satellite image of Cyclone Biparjoy

Scientists concerned over rise in cyclones

Scientists express concerns regarding the increasing number of cyclones in the Arabian Sea, which subsequently affects the Indian monsoon. Studies indicate that the frequency, intensity, and duration of cyclones in the Arabian Sea have significantly risen due to climate change. The IMD has also predicted the continuation of heat wave conditions in Bihar, Jharkhand, West Bengal, Andhra Pradesh, and Telangana over the next four to five days.

The formation of cyclone 'Biparjoy' in the Arabian Sea has raised alarm among meteorologists who have already warned of its potential impact on Kerala.

"The monsoon may arrive within the next 48 hours, but it will not be as robust and forceful," said GP Sharma, President of Meteorology and Climate Change at Skymet Weather.

The cyclonic conditions arise due to the warming of the oceans. In fact, recent studies indicated that the Arabian Sea has experienced a temperature increase of approximately 1.2 degrees Celsius since March.

"This year, the Indian monsoon is expected to bring scattered rains along the west coast but will not penetrate inland extensively, resulting in widespread rainfall," explained Dr. Roxy Mathew Koll, a Climate Scientist at the Indian Institute of Tropical Meteorology and a Lead IPCC Author.

Furthermore, the IMD has also predicted the continuation of heat wave conditions in Bihar, Jharkhand, West Bengal, Andhra Pradesh, and Telangana over the next 4-5 days.

The southeast monsoon arrived in the southern state on May 29 last year, June 3 in 2021, June 1 in 2020, June 8 in 2019 and May 29 in 2018.

Research shows a delay in the monsoon onset over Kerala does not necessarily mean a delay in the monsoon onset over northwest India.

However, a delay in the monsoon over Kerala is generally associated with a delay in onset at least over the southern states and Mumbai. Scientists say a delayed monsoon over Kerala also does not impact the total rainfall over the country during the season.

India is expected to get normal rainfall during the southwest monsoon season despite the evolving El Nino conditions, the IMD had earlier said. Northwest India is expected to see normal to below-normal rainfall. East and northeast, central, and south peninsula are expected to receive normal rainfall at 94-106 per cent of the long-period average of 87 cm.

Air India sends rescue flight for stranded US fliers in Russia

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

AIR India has sent a flight with relief and essentials from Mumbai to Magadan in Russia for passengers stranded following diversion of a San Francisco-bound plane.

"An Air India team is on board the flight to provide any support that the passengers and staff in Russia may require. The ferry flight is carrying essentials in addition to sufficient amount of food to cater to all passengers on the onward flight scheduled from GDX to San Francisco (SFO). The aircraft operating the ferry flight will take all passengers and crew onward to San Francisco on 08 June 2023," according to a statement released by Air India.

Earlier on Wednesday, Air India said limited infrastructure at and around the airport in Magadan, which is on Russia's eastern coast and over 10,000 km from capital Moscow, meant passengers had been moved to 'makeshift accommodation after making sincere attempts to accommodate passengers in hotels locally.

It takes around 7 hours and 37 minutes to reach Magadan from Moscow by air. "As we do not have Air India staff based in the remote town of Magadan or in Russia, all ground support being provided to passengers is the best possible in this unusual circumstance...," Air India said.

Civil aviation minister Jyotiraditya Scindia said he was tracking the situation very closely and was in constant touch with the airline.

The ministry also said it had been told by some fliers had been housed in a school building near the airport.

Meanwhile, the US has said that it is "closely monitoring" the situation. "We are aware of a US-bound flight that had to make an emergency landing in Russia and are continuing to monitor that situation closely. I'm not able to confirm how many US citizens were aboard the flight at this time," PTI quoted US State Department Deputy Spokesperson Vedant Patel as saying.

Food Safety Index '23: Kerala, Punjab lead, TN slips to 3rd spot

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

KERALA has topped the Food Safety Index 2022-23, replacing Tamil Nadu which has slipped to third position. Punjab stood in the second position in the Food Safety and Standards Authority of India (FSSAI)'s 5th State Food Safety Index (SFSI), which was released on Wednesday by Union Health Minister Mansukh Mandaviya on the occasion of World Food Day. Last year, Tamil Nadu was in the top position among 20 larger states, followed by Gujarat and Maharashtra. In 2020-21, Gujarat was in top position, followed by Kerala and then Tamil Nadu in the third position.

The Food Safety Index evaluates the performance of states and Union territories across different aspects of food safety. These parameters include food safety: human resources and institutional data, compliance, food testing facility, training and capacity building, and consumer empowerment.

The index started in 2018-19 and was meant to create a competitive and positive change in the food safety ecosystem in the country. The step was also taken to galvanise states and union territories to work towards ensuring safe food for citizens.

Among smaller states, Goa stood first for the fourth time in a row. It was followed by Manipur and Sikkim. Last year, these three states were in the same position. Among Union territories, Jammu and Kashmir, Delhi, and Chandigarh secured first, second, and third rank. This is the third time, Jammu and Kashmir have secured first position. Last year too, the three UTs had secured the same positions. Mandaviya also honoured the winners of the Eat Right Challenge for Districts - Phase II. These districts showcased outstanding efforts in implementing plans to improve the food environment and raise awareness about food safety. Most of the districts with exceptional results were located in Tamil Nadu, Madhya Pradesh, West Bengal, Uttar Pradesh, and Maharashtra.

Out of the 260 participating districts, 31 successfully achieved a score of 75% or higher. Mandaviya also announced that 25 lakh food business operators will be trained by FSSAI, a statutory body established under the Food Safety and Standards Act,2006 (FSS Act), in ensuring healthy and nutritious food to the people, in the next three years to ensure that food quality standards are met across the country. He also announced the setting up of 100 Food Streets across the country which meet the quality benchmark for food safety, hygiene, and nutrition.

German firm keen on building submarines for India

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

GERMAN Original Equipment Manufacturer thyssenkrupp Marine Systems (TKMS) on Wednesday signed a memorandum of understanding (MoU) with the Mazgaon Dockyard in Mumbai to compete as a partner in the Indian Navy's tender for construction of six air independent propulsion conventional submarines (Project 75 India).

"According to the MoU, thyssenkrupp Marine Systems would contribute to the engineering and design of the submarines as well as the consultancy support to this joint project and Mazagon Dock Shipbuilders would take responsibility for constructing and delivering the respective submarines.

The MoU was signed in the presence of the German Minister of Defense Boris Pistorius who is on a four day official visit to India," a statement released by TKMS said.

The construction of the submarines would take place in India and is expected to have significant local content. Regarding the cooperation TKMS said: "It is the intention of the parties to establish a cooperation according to which thyssenkrupp Marine Systems would contribute to the engineering and design of the submarines as well as the consultancy support to this joint project."

Representational image

The MoU stateed that Mazagon Dock Shipbuilders would take responsibility for constructing and delivering the respective submarines.

As reported earlier by this Newspaper, Project 75 India (P 75I) was given an extension in December 2022 till the August of 2023 for which the bids can be submitted by all the prospective bidders.

This was the second time that the Request for Proposal (RFP) was extended. First, it was extended in June. RFP is an official process to elicit responses from prospective bidders. There has been a reservation from the foreign bidders regarding the Air Independent Propulsion (AIP) technology which has to be an integral part of the six new boats.

AIP technology helps conventional submarines to remain submerged for a longer duration otherwise they have to surface in order to use oxygen to charge their batteries. At present, only select countries have this technological know-how and India is also in the process to develop it.

While India doesn't operate any submarine with the AIP, Pakistan already has two such submarines and has tied up with China for six such submarines.

Also, the Indian underwater combat force is short of its planned force levels and operates around 16 submarines.

Army seeks soldiers-only train coaches

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Indian Army has approached the Ministry of Railways to resume the facility of the army compartment in all trains for the sake of an ease of personnel below the officer ranks. The facility was discontinued in the wake of Covid-19 pandemic breakout.

Sources in the defence establishment said, "Attachment of Army Compartment (non-AC) was a facility afforded by the Railways to all uniformed forces for travel without reservation in some trains. The facility was stopped by the railways during covid for obvious reasons and has since been resumed only in a few trains."

"The Indian Army has since approached the Railways to resume this facility in other trains to facilitate journeys of the soldiers with unconfirmed tickets," the sources added.

The issue has been picked up by a group of veterans and civil society members who have been running an online campaign for restoring the facility.

Canada may deport 700 students over fake papers

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

THE fate of nearly 700 Indian students studying across various universities in Canada hangs in limbo amidst allegations of fake documents which could lead to their deportation.

June 13th has been fixed as the date of their deportation. Panic has gripped these students and they along with their seniors are now protesting against this. Many former Indian students are staging demonstrations against this decision in the Greater Toronto area.

The students under the scanner arrived into Canada between 2017-19 for higher education.

It has been alleged that the documents they had submitted during the time of admission were fake. More than 700 Indian students are now facing an exit from Canada.

They had been served deportation letters by the Canadian Border Security Agency earlier this year.

The alleged fraud first came under the spotlight when these students applied for permanent residency in Canada and their documents were scrutinised.

The agitation began when a student from Punjab received a removal order and was asked to leave Canada by June 13th. Gradually notices were issued to other students as well.

According to reports, most of the students are from Punjab and had been represented by an agent from a Jalandhar based counselling firm. After news about these students leaked the office premises of this agent became unoperational.

No comments have been made on this issue by any government official so far.

In less than one week from now, on June 13th, we would get to know whether protests and agitations help the students stay back in Canada, or whether they are deported to India.

BJP's cadre dread Bastar interiors as Maoist threat looms

EJAZ KAISER @ Raipur

Amid a looming Maoist threat, the opposition BJP being geared to revive its political fortune in poll-bound Chhattisgarh seems to be losing steam in the interiors of the Bastar zone in its 'Maha Jan Sampark' programme.

During the ongoing month-long party campaign aimed to highlight the nine years of achievements of the Modi government, the BJP cadre appears hesitant to venture out in Bastar villages. They have restricted their campaign mostly in the urban and semi-urban areas and along the highways, particularly in the districts of Bijapur, Dantewada, Sukma and Narayanpur.

The Bastar region has seven districts, all affected by left-wing extremists.

The party was shaken by the killing of four BJP leaders by Maoists this year in Bastar with the state BJP president Arun Sao raising the issue in the Lok Sabha during the previous Budget session. Ahead of the 2019 Lok Sabha polls, BJP MLA Bheema Mandavi was killed in a blast triggered by Maoists.

Poll strategy

State in-charge Mathur recently reviewed the party's position to amend the poll strategies in all 12 seats of Bastar during his four-day trip to the area where he exhorted the party activists to ensure extensive public interaction at booth levels. The BJP does not have a legislator in the 12 Assembly seats of the Bastar region.

The local BJP leaders are said to have apprised the party state in-charge Om Mathur about the risks – mostly of targeted killings – being faced by the party cadre.

The BJP does not have a legislator in the 12 Assembly seats of the Bastar region.

The party has chalked out a strategy to connect with the youth, women, tribals, eminent persons, all business segments and backward classes in the door-to-door campaign.

Gujarat court summons Kejriwal for 'defaming' PM

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

AN Ahmedabad court on Wednesday ordered Delhi CM Arvind Kejriwal and Sanjay Singh, an AAP Rajya Sabha MP, to appear in court on July 13 in a criminal defamation case involving their "sarcastic" and "derogatory" remarks on PM Modi's educational qualification.

A metropolitan court had earlier ordered the two to be present in court on June 7. The Gujarat University (GU) has initiated the lawsuit against the AAP leaders.

Attorneys representing Kejriwal and Sanjay Singh urged additional chief metropolitan magistrate Jayesh Chovatiya for documents pertaining to the case and submitted an application to excuse their clients from appearing in person.

Gujarat University attorney Amit Nair told this paper that the two leaders received relevant papers from the court. "The court issued a directive for the trial while approving their exemption request. The respondents confirmed they will be present for the plea recording on July 13," said Nair.

Cracks resurface in BJP-led ruling alliance in Haryana

Saffron bid to build base in Dushyant Chautala turf creates heartburn

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

WITH little more than a year to go for the assembly polls, not all's well between the alliance partners, the BJP and the Jannayak Janata Party (JJP), in Haryana. The BJP has proposed a rally on June 18 which will be addressed by Union Home Minister Amit Shah in Sirsa, the home district of the Chautalas.

The BJP wants its former MLA Prem Lata, the wife of former Union minister Birender Singh should contest from the Uchana Kalan assembly constituency, which is represented by senior JJP leader and Deputy Chief Minister Dushyant Chautala. The JJP leader defeated her in the previous election, and this has not gone well with the junior alliance partner.

The two parties have had differences over a few issues, including the one on protesting wrestlers in which the JJP has sided with the agitating wrestlers.

BJP's Haryana in-charge Biplab Deb had recently indicated that Prem Lata would be the party nominee from Uchana Kala in the next assembly elections. He said the JJP support was not a favour but a deal for ministerial berths. "Their support was not for free, nobody has done us any favour, numbers were needed to run the government, that is why we gave them ministerial berths."

On the future of the alliance, he said as of now, it was running fine "but no one could predict the future".

Meanwhile, Deputy CM Dushyant Chautala had recently said that he would contest from the same seat in the next assembly polls, saying three persons were having problems if he contests from the present seat.

In the 2019 assembly polls, the BJP and JJP had contested separately but later joined hands in a post-poll pact after the saffron party fell short of the majority mark (total seats 90) as it got 40 seats.

It is not the first time the alliance partners have had differences. Last year when the BJP announced that it would go it alone in the civic body polls, it had upset the ally. The BJP had to retract apparently after the intervention of the top leadership.

STRAINS OVER A SEAT

- BJP plans a rally on June 18, which will be addressed by Home Minister Amit Shah in Sirsa, the home district of the Chautalas
- BJP wants its former MLA Prem Lata to contest Uchana Kalan assembly seats
- However, Dushyant Chautala, JPP chief, defeated Prem Lata in 2019 polls and does not want to leave the seat
- JJP and BJP joined hands in post-poll alliance when BJP couldn't attain majority in the 90-member Assembly

Dushyant Chautala

The (JJP) support was not for free; nobody has done us any favour. Numbers were needed to run the govt; that is why we gave them ministerial berths.

Alert loco pilot applies emergency brakes to avert accident in J'khand

MUKESH RANJAN @ Ranchi

A loco-pilot's alertness averted a major mishap on Wednesday after a tractor collided with New Delhi-Bhubaneswar Rajdhani Express at Santhaldih railway crossing in Bokaro.

A tractor got stuck between the railway track and the crossing gate, but loco pilot applied emergency brake to avoid another rail tragedy.

The incident took place near the Bhojudih railway station at around 4:45 pm on Tuesday.

According to eyewitnesses, after getting information about arrival of Rajdhani Express, the gateman closed the gate a little late.

In between, the tractor crossing it got stuck near the track, as the gate was closed and the train crossed from there rammed into the tractor.

However, the driver of the train applied the brakes and the train stopped, averting any major accident.

The incident took place near the Bhojudih railway station on Tuesday

According to officials, the tractor has been seized and an FIR has been lodged at the police station concerned, while the gate man has been suspended.

"An inquiry has been initiated into the matter by setting up a -level inquiry committee. Prima facie, it appears to be the negligence of the gateman, who has been suspended. Fortunately, there has been no loss of life and property in the incident," said Senior Divisional Commercial Manger (DCM) of Adra Rail Division, Vikas Kumar. The train left for Bhubneshwar after a halt of 45 minutes, he added.

The incident came days after the Balasore train accident in Odisha that claimed 278 lives and left more than 1,100 injured.

EC to take cue from Covid registration in MP polls

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal

POSSIBLY taking cue from country's COVID-19 vaccination registration system, the chief electoral officer's (CEO-MP) office is working on a similar model to increase voting in urban centric constituencies during the coming assembly polls in Madhya Pradesh.

The CEO-MP's office is working at developing an app-driven system, which if put into practice, will enable voters at select polling booths in urban constituencies (particularly those which have historically reported low voter turnout), to book voting slots in advance just like the advance registration of slots under the country's CoWin app and portal-powered COVID-19 vaccination program.

"Detailed analysis of the 2018 assembly polls voting percentages, suggests that voters in many predominantly urban assembly segments are sluggish when it comes to exercising franchise, when compared to polling behaviour of the electorate in largely rural and semi-urban seats. We're hence working on an app which will enable voters at select polling booths/stations in some urban assembly constituencies to book their voting slots in advance and reach there at the booked time slot to vote," CEO-MP Anupam Rajan told this newspaper.

"Once the app is developed, we'll start working on other modalities. The system, once developed, is likely to be put in place at select booths of select seats, which have in the past been most slow in voting. If the effort clicks and helps in increasing the poll percentage in the lowest voting urban seats, then it might be expanded further in the 2024 national (Lok Sabha) elections," he maintained.

The CEO-MP believed that if the system is finally put in place and actually works, then it will reduce waiting time at polling booths, particularly for voters, like housewives, elderly and even single parents of small children, who cannot be out of home for long.

Importantly, a lowdown at the 2018 assembly polls statistics reveals that among the 10 assembly seats which reported the lowest voting, five seats are predominantly urban seats. Those seats include Gwalior-East which reported 58.18% voter turnout, Gwalior-South (60.45%), Govindpura-Bhopal (61.19%), Bhopal Madhya (59.55%) and Bhind (58.70%).

The Election Commission will also make provision for voters aged above 80 years and persons with disabilities (PwDs) to vote from their home, if they are unable to go out to exercise their franchise.

Under the vote from home (VFH) facility more than 12.10 lakh voters, including 7.30 lakh voters aged above 80 years and over 4.80 lakh PwDs, will be eligible to vote from home, if they desire to exercise that option.

The polling parties, carrying a completely secured ballot box and also provision for videography of the entire vote-from-home process will go to the concerned voter's home and enable the voter to cast the ballot a week before the actual poll.

As per latest figures available with the CEO-MP office, the state presently houses over 5.41 crore voters, including more than 2.80 crore male and over 2.61 crore female voters, besides 1,257 third gender voters. Those aged above 80 years and the persons with disabilities form 1.35% and 0.89% respectively.

UKRAINE DAM WATER GUSHES INTO MORE AREAS

Thousands evacuated, those still trapped climb to rooftops to stay safe; more areas at flood risk as water levels set to rise further

A woman is evacuated from a flooded neighbourhood in Kherson | AP

KHERSON

FLOODWATERS from a collapsed dam kept rising in southern Ukraine on Wednesday, forcing hundreds of people to flee their homes in a major emergency operation that brought a dramatic new dimension to the war with Russia, now in its 16th month.

Amid the disaster response, artillery shelling rang out as people scrambled to get out of the danger zone, climbing onto military trucks or rafts.

A day after the dam's collapse, it remained unclear what caused it. Ukraine accused Russia of blowing up the dam wall, while Russia blamed Ukrainian shelling for the breach. Some experts said the collapse may have been an accident caused by wartime damage and neglect, although others said this was unlikely and argued that Russia might have had tactical military reasons to destroy the dam.

The flood's force was expected to slacken as the day wore on, officials said Wednesday, but water levels were expected to rise by another metre over the following 20 hours and engulf more downriver areas along the banks of the Dnieper. The Kakhovka hydroelectric dam and reservoir, one of the largest in the world and essential for the supply of drinking water and irrigation to a huge area of southern Ukraine, lies in a part of the Kherson region occupied by the Kremlin's forces for the past year. The Dnieper River separates the warring sides there. Ukraine President Volodymyr Zelenskyy on Wednesday accused Moscow of 'deliberate destruction' of the dam.

"Hundreds of thousands of people were left without normal access to drinking water," he said in a Telegram post.

Some local residents spent the night on rooftops. Others, scrambling to flee the rising waters, were evacuated by buses and trains with the belongings they could carry.

"The intensity of floods is slightly decreasing," Oleksandr Prokudin, the head of the Kherson Regional Military administration, said in a video.

"However, due to the significant destruction of the dam, the water will keep coming." He said more than 1,800 houses were flooded along the Dnieper. Residents sloshed through knee-deep waters in inundated homes as videos posted on social media showed scenes including rescue workers carrying people to safety, and what looked like the triangular roof of an entire building that had been uprooted drifting downstream. AFP

RUSSIA THREAT:

Germany to host biggest NATO air deployment exercise

BERLIN

NATO will begin the largest air force deployment exercise in Europe in the alliance's history next week, German and American officials confirmed on Wednesday.

The German-led "Air Defender 23" will take place over around 10 days starting on Monday and include some 220 military aircraft from 25 NATO and partner countries. Presenting the plans, US Ambassador to Germany Amy Gutmann said that while the exercise was purely defensive in nature, it was intended to send a message to countries including Russia.

"I would be pretty surprised if any world leader was not taking note of what this shows in terms of the spirit of this alliance, which means the strength of this alliance, and that includes Mr Putin," she told reporters, referring to the Russian president.

"By synchronising together, we multiply our force." The exercise will include operational and tactical-level training, primarily in Germany, but also in the Czech Republic, Estonia and Latvia. General Ingo Gerhartz of the German Luftwaffe said "Air Defender" was conceived in 2018 in part as a response to the Russian annexation of Crimea from Ukraine, although he stressed it was "not targeted at anyone".

"We are a defensive alliance and that is how this exercise is planned," he said. General Michael Loh, director of the US Air National Guard, said NATO's duties were at an "inflection point". "A great deal has changed on the strategic landscape throughout the world, especially here in Europe," he said. "This exercise focuses on supplementing the permanent US presence in Europe" as well as providing training "on a larger scale than what was usually accomplished on the continent", Loh added.

Gutmann said that while there were no plans to make "Air Defender" a recurring exercise, she added: "We have no desire for this to be the last." Asked about potential disruption to civilian air transport during the exercise, Gerhartz insisted the planners had done "everything in our power" to prevent delays..." AFP

Blinken meets Gulf Arab officials as alliances shift

RIYADH

US Secretary of State Antony Blinken met Gulf Arab officials in Saudi Arabia on Wednesday at a time of rapidly shifting alliances following the oil-rich kingdom's rapprochement with Iran. Blinken attended a Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) ministerial meeting in the capital Riyadh that kicked off shortly after he met with Saudi Foreign Minister Prince Faisal bin Farhan.

The two countries "resolved to continue to work together to counter terrorism, to support efforts to bring about a lasting peace in Yemen, and to promote stability, security, de-escalation, and integration in the region," the US State Department said.

"The two sides pledged to continue their strong cooperation to end the fighting in Sudan," it added in a statement. The meetings came a day after Blinken flew into Jeddah and held talks with Saudi Arabia's de facto ruler Mohammed bin Salman, in which he raised human rights issues. AFP

Prince Harry cross-examined over phone hacking claims

LONDON: BRITAIN'S Prince Harry on Wednesday faced stern cross-examination at the high court here from the barrister representing the Mirror Group Newspapers over the royal's claims that its publications obtained stories related to his private life by unlawful means, including phone hacking. On the second day of his witness statement, the 38-year-old Duke of Sussex was taken through the articles narrowed down for the purpose of the legal case and questioned at length over why he believes they were obtained unlawfully. It included articles referring to his relationship with his ex-girlfriend Chelsy Davy and his military career serving in Afghanistan. Harry told the court that he was convinced that "phone hacking was on an industrial scale" and that he "would feel an injustice if it wasn't accepted". The newspaper group's barrister, Andrew Green, suggested the royal is in the 'realms of speculation' and challenged him on claims that his ex-girlfriend's phone was being hacked at the time. AFP

BSNL gets 3rd package of ₹89,047 cr

Much of the financial package to go towards spectrum allocation for launch of 4G, 5G services

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

IN a much-needed relief, the Cabinet on Wednesday approved the third revival package of ₹89,047 crore for ailing state-owned Bharat Sanchar Nigam Limited (BSNL).

This package is for allocation of spectrum for the launch of 4G and 5G services across the country, as it is facing stiff competition from rival Bharti Airtel and Reliance Jio.

BSNL is yet to unveil its 4G or 5G network even as the two private telecom service providers are already rolling out 5G services across the country.

This is one of the reasons that the company is losing its subscribers rapidly. However, this package will help the company to speed up its 4G and 5G rollout in the country.

"With this spectrum, BSNL will provide India 4G and 5G services, including Mumbai and Delhi. The company will also provide 4G coverage in uncovered areas, captive network and fixed wireless access for high speed internet," said telecom minister Ashwini Vaishnaw, while announcing the package.

This is not the first revival package for the telco. The government had approved the first revival package of ₹69,000 crore, which the government believes will gave stability to the company. In 2022, the government had approved the second revival package of ₹1.64 lakh crore.

The package comprised cash component of ₹43,964 crore and non-cash component worth ₹1.2 lakh crore spread over a duration of four years.

In the current package, the telco received four 700 MHz worth ₹46,338.60 crore, 3,300 MHz for ₹26,184.20 crore, 26 GHz for ₹6,564.93 crore, and 2,500 MHz worth ₹9,428.20 crore.

With this package, BSNL's total authorised capital has been increased from ₹1.50 lakh crore to ₹2.10 lakh crore.

According to the government, it provided financial support for capex, viability gap funding for rural landlines, financial support for destressing the balance sheet, and settlement of AGR dues, merger of BBNL with BSNL, among other things.

Following these packages, the telecom service provider has started earning operating profit since FY22.

The company's total debt has reduced from ₹32,944 crore to ₹22,289 crore.

"In the next three years, the company will be debt free," said Vaishnaw.

Airfares must remain within limit as ticket prices rise manifold: Scindia

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

AIR ticket prices must remain within a certain limit and the government have conveyed this concern to airlines, said Union aviation minister Jyotiraditya Scindia on Wednesday as airfares have surged up to 10 times on select routes after the grounding of private carrier Go First in the peak summer travel season.

"We cannot have prices way beyond what should rationally be done, specifically when we have certain instances take place, such as the Go First situation or other calamities or extenuating circumstances," the minister said in an event which highlighted the achievements of aviation sector since 2014.

On the ongoing Go First insolvency proceeding, Scindia said that the aviation regulator DGCA is currently assessing the flight resumption plan submitted by the bankrupt airline.

Scindia's comment on airfares came after he held a meeting with the representatives of airlines on Monday and asked them to self-regulate ticket prices, especially on routes where a big vacuum is created due to the grounding of Go First.

The minister acknowledged the economic woes of passengers and said that the airlines must be proactive in terms of monitoring airfares as opposed to being reactive after his ministry or the regulator steps in.

Scindia, however, ruled out the imposition of airfare bands and reiterated that the civil aviation industry of India is a deregulated sector and fares are market-determined.

"The airline pricing system runs in multiple levels which are in line with practices followed globally. The prices are fixed by airlines keeping in mind the market, demand, seasonality and other market forces. Airfare increases with increase in demand for seats as the lower fare buckets get sold out faster..." he said.

The minister claimed that post the recent advice to airlines to self-monitor, airfares have seen a noticeable drop on some routes. "The maximum prices in the Delhi-Srinagar route, the Delhi-Leh route, the Delhi-Pune route, and the Delhi-Mumbai route had dropped between 14% and 61%. The DGCA and my ministry are monitoring airfares on a daily basis," said Scindia.

Airfares have skyrocketed since the grounding of cash-strapped Go First on May 3. The carrier, which is going through insolvency proceedings, used to carry 8-9 lakh passengers per month.

₹1 lakh cr capex push underway: Aviation minister

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

UNION aviation minister Jyotiraditya Scindia on Wednesday said a capital expenditure (Capex) push of ₹1 lakh crore is currently underway for development and modernisation of infrastructure to support the growing aviation sector.

Private sector is expected to contribute 70% of the total projected capex. Scindia projected that the country will have over 200 airports within the next five years with leasing process for 29 aircraft at Gift City in Gujarat.

Highlighting the achievement of Prime Minister Narendra Modi-led government, he said that in just nine years the number of airports doubled from 74 to 148.

The minister has projected that capacity at six large metro airports- Bombay, Delhi, Hyderabad, Bengaluru, Chennai, and Kolkata- will double in the next eight years.

Scindia also pointed out that India has got a new major airline (Akasa), which is expected to have 70 aircraft in the coming future.

While newly-launched Akasa Air is growing, Go First stopped flying last month and Jet Airways was grounded four years back and is struggling to make a comeback.

BSNL will stop losing users from Oct-Nov: Telecom min

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

BHARAT SANCHAR NIGAM LIMITED (BSNL) will stop losing its subscriber base by October or November 2023, said telecom minister Ashwini Vaishnaw on Wednesday.

The minister while announcing the third relief package of ₹89,047, also mentioned that the company will be in position to give stiff competition to the private telecom operators in the next one year. "Once the rollout of 4G and 5G takes place, the company will stop losing its subscribers," he said.

The telco is not in good health and continuously losing its subscribers to the private telecom operators.

According to the Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (TRAI), BSNL had a market share of only 9.27% in March 2023 with 103.68 million subscribers in the mobile segment. While its competitors Reliance Jio, Bharti Airtel and Vodafone Idea held 90.73% market share. In March 2023, the company lost more than 50,000 subscribers.

In the wireline segment too the company is languishing at third place with 25% market share at the end of March 2023. Experts believe not having 4G network is costing BSNL. However, the minister said the telco had started rolling out a 4G network with 200 sites, and after a three-month trial, it will launch an average of 200 sites per day.

"BSNL is providing more than 1 lakh new connections every month. And total home fiber subscriber base of BSNL in May 2023 is 30.88 Lakh," said the minister.

BSNL to give competition to private telcos in 1 year

Telecom minister Ashwini Vaishnaw while announcing the third relief package of ₹89,047, also mentioned that the company will be in position to give stiff competition to the private telecom operators in the next one year. "Once the rollout of 4G and 5G takes place, the company will stop losing its subscribers," Vaishnaw said.

BSNL had taken over mobile service operations of its debt-ridden sister concern MTNL in Delhi and Mumbai. It will start its 4G and 5G services in Delhi and Mumbai in the next one year.

BSNL Chairman and Managing Director PK Purwar said BSNL has taken over mobile service operations of its debt-ridden sister concern MTNL in Delhi and Mumbai.

When asked about the expected timeline for the rollout of 4G and 5G services in Delhi and Mumbai, Purwar said it will be available after a year.

Sensex hits 63,000 ahead of RBI meet outcome

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

DOMESTIC equity market witnessed strong buying on Wednesday with the BSE benchmark Sensex topping the 63,000-mark for the first time in calendar year 2023.

The surge is attributed to expectations that RBI will keep repo rates unchanged in its latest policy. Gaining for the fourth straight session, Sensex climbed 350 points or 0.56% to settle at 63,143 while the broader NSE Nifty50 gained 127.4 points or 0.68% to end at 18,726.40.

"Investors are becoming more optimistic due to anticipation of a positive revision in RBI's inflation forecast during the ongoing MPC meeting. It is expected that the RBI will maintain its pause on rate hikes, considering significant improvement in inflation, which has now come within the RBI's comfort zone," said Vinod Nair, head of research at Geojit Financial Services.

Shrikant Chouhan, head of equity research (Retail), Kotak Securities, said upbeat moves prevailed throughout Wednesday as investors are hoping for a rate hike pause amid improving domestic macroeconomic situation. All eyes will be on the RBI's growth outlook and inflation projection for the year, and in case there is any downgrade in inflation expectations, optimism is likely to persist, he added.

Consumer inflation slowed to 18-month low in April to 4.7 % and was in RBI's tolerance zone of 4-6%. This, as per experts will help the central bank to maintain status quo on interest rates.

Meanwhile, the combined market capitalisation of BSE-listed firms stood at $3.5 trillion on Wednesday, the first time since December 1, 2022. The surge in m-cap comes as investors have been on a buying spree for the past two and half months in which the Sensex has gained nearly 10% or 5,615 points (from March 24 to June 7).

Going forward, most analysts believe that the local equity market will remain in a positive zone with Morgan Stanley pegging a target of 68,500 by December end, a potential increase of 10% from the current level.

'India has embraced ChatGPT'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

A OpenAI CEO and ChatGPT creator Sam Altman, who is on a visit to India, said Artificial Intelligence (AI) chatbot has witnessed several early adopters in India and that the country has truly embraced ChatGPT.

Speaking to the media, he said every tech revolution leads to job change and that this is the most exciting time to begin a company since the dawn of the internet. Altman will visit Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Thursday.

Altman tweeted on Sunday that he was excited to visit India, Israel, Jordan, Qatar, the UAE, India, and South Korea this week. His visit to India comes at a time when companies are exploring generative AI. Earlier, tweeting about AI, the CEO of OpenAI said AI is how we describe software that we don't quite know how to build yet, particularly software we are either very excited about or very nervous about.

"The most special thing about openai is the culture of repeatable innovation. It is relatively easy to copy something; it's hard to do something for the first time. it's really hard to do many things for the first time!," he had tweeted. ChatGPT creator Open AI is backed by Elon Musk, among others. It introduced the now popular generative model in November 2022. Recently Microsoft announced a multibillion-dollar investment in OpenAI.

World Bank cuts GDP growth to 6.3% for FY24

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

WORLD BANK on Wednesday lowered India's growth projection to 6.3% for FY24, down 0.3% from January outlook due to constraints in private consumption, high inflation and rising borrowing costs.

"Growth in India is expected to slow to 6.3% in FY2023/24 (April-March), a 0.3 percentage point downward revision from January, with private consumption constrained by high inflation and rising borrowing costs, and government consumption by fiscal consolidation," the World Bank said in its report "Global Economic Prospects".

Guaranteed pension plan in the works, but will come at a cost: PFRDA Chairman

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

A guaranteed pension plan is very much in the works, but such a plan will come at a cost, Deepak Mohanty, Chairman of the Pension Fund Regulatory and Development Authority (PFRDA) said here on Wednesday.

Mohanty indicated that subscribers of such a plan will have to make higher contributions to receive guaranteed pensions.

"We have to balance risk and return. When somebody gives the guarantee, it will have a cost. The pension funds will have to bear that cost," the chairman told the media.

He said an assured return product will have to provide higher capital, because it is taking more risk (to guarantee a certain return).

"Pension funds have given good returns because they are low-cost plans. The lower cost is partly because they are thinly capitalized. For assured returns, you will have to provide higher capital," Mohanty added.

The PFRDA Chairman, however, did not give a timeline for the launch of the assured return pension plan.

"We have made some progress and we will come up with that kind of product. At the same time we have to see that the returns look attractive. Efforts are on to come up with a product that does take off well," he added. Mohanty, who is also part of the committee to look at improving NPS (New Pension System), refused to divulge the details of the discussion within the committee.

The government has set up a committee under the chairmanship of finance Secretary TV Somanathan to look at issues of government employees with the NPS.

Meanwhile, Mohanty said that there are about 5.3 crore subscribers of Atal Pension Yojana (APY).

This year the target for enrolment under APY is 1.3 crore as against 1.2 crore last year.

Gold demand down 17% in 1st quarter as price surges

SACHIN KUMAR @ Mumbai

Rally in gold prices has dented its demand as consumers bought fewer jewellery, bars and coins in the first quarter of 2023.

The demand for gold jewellery in March quarter fell 17% to 78 tonnes in the quarter ended March this year, compared to 94 tonnes in the same quarter in previous year, according to latest data released by the World Gold Council (WGC).

Similar fall was witnessed in the investment demand of the yellow metal as investors bought 34.4 tonnes of gold bars and coins in the first quarter of this year compared to 41 tonnes of gold bars and coins in the same quarter of previous year.

Gold prices rise nearly 10% so far this year

Gold prices have risen nearly 10% so far this year and touched a record high of ₹61,490 per 10 gram last month. However, prices have cooled a little and gold is currently trading around ₹60,800 per 10 gram

Industry stakeholders blame high prices for muted demand for the precious metal. Gold prices have risen around 10% so far this year and touched a record high of ₹61,490 per 10 gram last month. However, prices have cooled a little and gold is currently trading around ₹60,800 per 10 gram.

"In context of the record high local gold price, it was unsurprising to see such lacklustre jewellery demand. Indian consumers are keenly aware of- and sensitive to - moves in the local gold price," said a report by WGC. Global factors are pushing up the prices of gold, say experts. In the past year, the world has seen start of war between Russia and Ukraine, monetary tightening due to steep hikes in interest rates by US Federal Reserve and collapse of banks in US and Europe. Fears of recession have fueled the safe-haven demand for gold. Prices are expected to rise further by the end of this driven by strong festive demand.

"We expect India gold demand to pick up by the last quarter of current year as festive season kicks in from October onwards while slowdown concerns in global economy could also keep safe haven appeal intact in gold prices for the next year perspective," Naveen Mathur, Director - Commodities and Currencies, Anand Rathi Shares and Stock Brokers told this newspaper.

Head-master's class

Decision to bowl first in the summit clash with four seamers and a lone spinner did not go India's way on Day One against Australia

IN damp, dank conditions, India refused to change their XI after naming it a day before official start of play. With no play possible on the opening day and with more rain forecast, they stuck to their same XI at the toss more than 40 hours later. Their rationale at the time -- the inaugural edition of the World Test Championship against New Zealand in 2021 -- was 'to take the pitch and condition out of the equation'. At least that was the official explanation offered at the time by fielding coach, R Sridhar. While this may sound like post-facto analysis, that was the wrong call. New Zealand went in with zero spinners and five seamers, including Colin de Grandhomme's genteel pace.

Two years later, it seems like they wanted to take the 'pitch and conditions into the equation' but only succeeded in misreading both of it. On a greenish pitch with some cloud cover, Rohit Sharma called heads and opted to ball first. When the team sheet landed, they had gone for the mercurial options of Shardul Thakur AND Umesh Yadav over Ravichandran Ashwin. Just after tea, Ashwin, who was running the drinks, was leaning against one of the walls on the dugout, while wearing a blank expression. If given a chance, Sharma would have brought him on as an Impact Player before lunch. This is even before you consider Ashwin's record against left-handers (Australia have four in the top seven).

Instead, he had to resort to hiding Umesh Yadav, the third seamer, in the post-lunch session. Because you don't get a great degree of control with Yadav -- he gets a majority of his wickets while attacking the stumps -- Sharma wanted to stem the rot. His second over was a harbinger of things to come. The overcast skies were already making their way from The Oval when David Warner broke free with four fours all through the off-side. Short, wide and asking to be hit. Warner obliged by taking the aerial route. The net effect of the decision to not play Ashwin meant Shami and Siraj were overworked. In all, the duo bowled 39 out of the 85 overs across multiple spells.

The decision to leave out Ashwin wasn't the only one that came back to bite India. Even the call to bowl first seems to have been dictated by overhead conditions that didn't last for much more than one session. When the Kiwis made the decision to stick India in 2021, they were informed by the forecast that said lots of rain. There was none of it at The Oval. It's been one of the driest Mays on record in the UK, there is no forecast for rain for at least the first three days and there was no danger of the flood lights being switched on.

In corporate parlance, they didn't control the controllables even before the start of play. To make matters worse, they failed to find the right areas when the conditions remained heavy. They were a touch short on occasions; Shami himself could have been a touch fuller. When Marnus Labuschagne decided to bat at least a couple of foot outside the stumps to negate whatever movement was available, the bowlers weren't proactive enough to send him back inside the crease ('keeper KS Bharat did come up to the stumps for Shardul Thakur).

Some of their bowling against Travis Head also left much to be desired. He's had a weakness to bumpers aimed at his body but most of the bumpers bowled to him was away from the body. On the odd occasions he fended those raising bouncers, he did so in the knowledge that there was no leg-gully.

Thursday morning will again bring with it heavy conditions before ample afternoon sunshine. If India are to get themselves back in the game, they need to use those conditions. Otherwise, this could already be out of their comfort zone.

Travis cuts, slices & ramps; puts Oz on top

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ London

IN April, England Test captain Ben Stokes had sent out a message to all the Ashes venues. "We have been very clear with the ground staff around England about what type of wickets we want," he had told Sky Sports. "We want fast, flat wickets. We want to score quickly."

It's fair to say that the surface doled out for the second edition of the WTC final — at least on Day One — wasn't a typical 'Bazzball' surface. The Oval (the venue will host the last Ashes Test beginning on July 27) had an even covering of grass (6mm according to the broadcasters). There was some cloud cover going into the toss so Rohit Sharma had no hesitation in opting to bowl first.

After accounting for Usman Khawaja for nought and keeping a lid on the run-scoring for the majority of the opening session, it seemed like they had gotten away with one. Because they had made the decision to go with four seamers and left Ravichandran Ashwin to carry the drinks. Even though they burgled the wickets of David Warner and Marnus Labuschagne either side of lunch, they soon regretted the decision to bench the No. 1-ranked bow.

Travis Head scored 146 runs in the opening day of the WTC Final | AP

SCOREBOARD: Australia 1st Innings: Warner c Bharat b Thakur 43, Khawaja c Bharat b Mohd Siraj 0, Labuschagne b Mohd Shami 26, , Smith (not out) 95, Travis Head (not out) 146; Extras: (b1, lb5, nb5, w6) 17; Total: (For 3 wickets in 85 overs) 327; Fow: 1/2, 2/71, 3/76; Bowling: Shami20-3-77-1, Siraj 19-4-67-1, Yadav 14-4-54-0, Thakur 18-2-75-1, Jadeja 14-0-48-0.

All teams make errors and take iffy judgment calls but you still need somebody to capitalise; that's what Travis Head did. His aggressive century has already put Australia in a sound position heading into the second day of the Test. He's the closest that can replicate the Bazzball brand of red-ball batting in this side — there's a reason why the England management have been impressed with him — and he showed it.

Just as the afternoon Sun was ever so gently baking the surface, Head was playing the role of sous-chef for the Australians. While Steve Smith was running the pass, Head was making the bowlers' shoulders drop. When Labuschagne lost his off-stump to Mohammed Shami with the score on 76, India were in the game. Thirty minutes later, it was already slipping away. Six of Head's first 10 scoring shots were boundaries as he scored boundaries over slips, through covers and over mid-wicket. Why Head is so successful is the belief he he has in his stroke-play. That's the one thing that's changed over the last few years. One of the few batters with a strike rate of 80 while averaging 60 in this format since 2021, the belief was evident.

In the first half of the innings, he cut and sliced behind square on the off-side. In the second part of the innings, the ramp was out after he unsuccessfully tried to hook a few balls. There was a two-ball sequence off Shami when he ramped him for a four and six. While the other Mohammed, Siraj, hit the side of helmet, he soon had the last laugh as he brought up his sixth 100 in Tests, with the bulk of it coming between mid-off and the keeper (64 runs).

This wicket was neither flat or fast but Head's methods mean India will begin Thursday with a massive headache.

When Oval resembled a slice of Indian flavour

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ London

THE Oval metro station, a solid hit away from the ground, has been feeling like India for the last few days. Two big Indian companies — a bank and a media house — have been dominating the ad space. When you are riding the elevator, it's hard to miss it. The A4 and A3-sized hoardings are everywhere. On Wednesday, the station itself was taken over by Indian fans. They streamed out of the metro, entered Harleyford Street before they went to the different gates. Some of them — admittedly half-heartedly — tried to work up a 'Bharat Mata Ki Jai' chant. Others stuck to a more generic 'India, India'.

Wednesday began like any other typical early English summer morning. The clouds were low, there was some chill in the air and a hint of moisture without any rain and the wind was gently biting into the skin. The scene outside the Alec Stewart Gate — one of the main entrances to the Stadium — conveyed familiar scenes whenever there's cricket involving India in this part of the world. Fans pouring in from all parts of the world. From San Francisco to Chennai, they were all here from 8.00 AM local time, waiting for the gate to open. This match — the WTC final — is still trying to find its footing in the calendar but these fans have already embraced it. A few, like Sujoy, have travelled from as far out as America's west coast for one day's worth of cricket. Over the next month or so, London will play host to a number of events (Harry Styles, Arctic Monkeys, start of Wimbledon) but over the next five days, the one happening at The Oval is the hottest ticket in town.

Suman, who's travelled from New York, holds tickets for the first three days. "It should be a fantastic game," he said. "I do travel a lot for cricket. Last year, I was in Florida when India toured the West Indies," he added, sporting a Bharat Army T-shirt.

Across the street, there was at least one vendor who was making brisk business selling flags and cheap jerseys. Next to the vendor, another fan had a poster that said: 'Ee sala WTC namde (this year, WTC is ours)'. "Last time we couldn't win it. This year, I'm very much sure we will win. Players are very much in form coming out from the IPL. I think Virat Kohli will be the key batter from an Indian perspective," he said. Considering Royal Challengers Bangalore fans adopted it over five years ago and are waiting for their moment in the sun...

And then, there were people looking for tickets just outside the Alec Stewart gate while at the metro, a man was screaming at the top of his voice. "Looking to buy or sell tickets."

WFI poll deadline of June 30 looks daunting

FIROZ MIRZA @ Chennai

AFTER meeting with the protesting wrestlers, union sports minister Anurag Thakur on Wednesday said that the elections of the Wrestling Federation of India (WFI) will be held by the end of the month. The suggestion to hold the polls by June 30 was given by the wrestlers and Thakur said all the proposals including that of the elections were agreed to unanimously.

The declaration might raise hopes for a new elected body in place this month but given the WFI's constitution, which was amended till June 30 last year, chances of that happening look slim. Article XIII of the constitution deals with voting in the WFI. According to it, voting can be done in the annual general meeting (AGM) and special general meeting (SGM). For calling an AGM, a 30-day clear notice is required while a 21-day clear notice is needed to hold an SGM as per Article XI.

But there is a catch even in that. Going by the notice period, the Indian Olympic Association (IOA), which has been asked to appoint a retired High Court judge to ensure a fair and transparent election, has only 24 hours if it wishes to adhere to the specified deadline. What makes it more difficult is the fact that it has yet not appointed a retired High Court judge who can act as a returning officer for the elections. Besides, it has to inform United World Wrestling (UWW) as well which has to send an observer for the elections."If the IOA wants to conduct elections by June 30, it should send the notice for the SGM by June 9 (Friday), which in turn means it has only one day to appoint the returning officer. It looks highly unlikely at the moment," a source keeping track of the developments said. The UWW, earlier, in its statement clearly mentioned that the 45-day deadline for elections must be met. The IOA constituted an ad hoc committee on April 27 to run the day-to-day affairs of the WFI. It eventually assumed charge on May 4 setting the deadline as June 17. The source, nonetheless, is confident that the world governing body will have no problem extending the deadline if the IOA or the ad hoc body requests it.

Another thing that can complicate the issue is Article XII which specifies that the SGM can be summoned by the president at any time at his discretion and/or shall be summoned, on a written requisition signed by presidents and secretaries of not less than 50% member units, within 40 days from the date of receipt of the said requisition.

Blasters to blasted over women's team pause

VISHNU PRASAD @ Bengaluru

WHEN Kerala Blasters took the indefensible decision to walk off the pitch during their ISL playoff encounter against Bengaluru FC last season, the assumption was that, from a PR standpoint, things couldn't get worse. On Tuesday, they topped that with an even more spectacular own goal.

After their walk-off netted them a hefty ₹4cr fine and a ten-game ban for coach Ivan Vukomanovic, the Blasters, on Tuesday, announced a 'temporary pause of our Women's Team'. In what was arguably more ill-advised than Vukomanovic's decision to call off his players from the pitch, they chose to link that decision with the fine that had been imposed on them, portraying their women's teams as victims of the penalty.

"After a very encouraging first season that saw our women's team achieve tremendous results, this year the Club had plans for increased investments for our women's team. These investments included a first-of-a-kind foreign pre-season tour accompanying our Men's Team, player exchanges, exposure tours, and so much more. However, the financial sanctions have presented us with an unfortunate challenge," the Blasters statement said. "We deeply regret that we cannot continue our women's team activities until such time that there is complete clarity on the matter. The decision to pause their activities was made after careful consideration and evaluation of the current circumstances."

The move was predictably met with harsh criticism from all quarters. Coaches, former players all had the same thing to say. It is difficult to imagine how anyone in the Blasters management team thought that this move would result in anything other than a spectacular backfire. If they had hoped to intimidate the AIFF or present themselves as victims of official apathy, that failed. Federation officials had the same message for anyone approaching them for comment — this is their internal decision and we have no comments. In other words, this is their mess. When your adversary has shot themselves in the foot, all you need to do is to look on and laugh.

If the hope was to galvanize the fans against the sanctions, that appears to have failed to, with the Blasters fan base loud in condemning the decision. Manjappada, the most vocal among the Blasters' fan groups, termed the decision 'pathetic'. In short, all that the decision has done is to portray the Blasters management as petulant and childish.The timing of the announcement also betrays shocking insensitivity, for it not only comes at a time when the state of women's sports in India is under the spotlight for all the wrong reasons, but also just a few days after another club from the same state — Gokulam Kerala — lifted the Indian Women's League title, proving that Kerala is indeed a hotbed for female footballing talent.

IOA still unable to appoint CEO, house divided

SOMEHOW it was not at all surprising that there was no decision on the appointment of a Chief Executive Officer during Monday's Executive Committee meeting of the Indian Olympic Association. The meeting did discuss the appointment of a CEO but nothing could be finalised.

The IOA had sought applications in January but had only one candidate who met the eligibility criteria of the newly-amended constitution. There is no update as of now. The IOA even called for an emergent general body meeting in May to alter the eligibility criteria for the CEO but it had to cancel it after the International Olympic Committee (IOC) intervened. The IOC had categorically told this newspaper that "the IOC sees absolutely no reason why the IOA Constitution, which was just adopted in November last year, would need to be reviewed again". The IOC also said it "has been insisting for several months that the IOA must appoint the new CEO without any further delay, in accordance with the IOA Constitution". In fact, the IOC is yet to give an audience to the IOA's newly-elected top officials including the president.

However, even on Monday though there were a few appointments, there was nothing on the CEO. As of now, IOA joint secretary Kalyan Chaubey is holding the position and even is taking decisions in that capacity. Unlike the joint secretary, CEO is a paid post and "must be a person who is a management professional with management experience of at least 10 (ten) years as the CEO of a company/entity with a turnover of at least ₹25 crores." The CEO has sweeping powers and that's one reason why the IOA was trying to change the constitution.

Interestingly, all day-to-day activities and even recent hirings are done by the acting CEO, who has been in charge since January. Even this is in violation of the constitution that allows a joint secretary to assume office for a maximum of 60 days "a Joint Secretary shall function as the CEO until a new CEO is appointed within 60 days from the position being declared vacant." IOA chief PT Usha had been insisting that a CEO should be appointed soon but there seems to be a section in IOA that would want the organisation to continue functioning as it is. Even during the EC meeting whenever CEO's discussions took place, it turned a bit loud.

Besides taking decisions on the appointment of executives in various positions, the IOA also had discussions on sending officials to the Asian Games. What seemed interesting was the discussion on sending two sets of press attaché on a rotation basis so that more members can visit China. There is growing unrest among members as this would incur the wrath of the IOC yet again.

BATTLE OF THE BLUES

It's Manchester City vs Inter Milan for the UEFA Champions League final this Sunday, and football fans are echoing similar feelings – wanting Inter to be on the top but being realistic about City's potential

TUNIR BISWAS

ON June 11, 12.30 am IST, football fans around the globe will be glued to their seats to witness the biggest match of the season (when the World Cup is not happening) – the UEFA Champions League (UCL) final between English Premier League's (EPL) Manchester City FC vs Seria A's Inter Milan. Two clubs known for their competency will clash heads on the biggest stage of club football. On one hand, this will be Man City's second bout at the UCL final, their previous one being against London's Chelsea FC in 2021 where the London club emerged victorious. On the other hand, Inter Milan has already lifted the coveted trophy three times with the most recent one being in 2010. The 2010s, in a way, have been Man City's glory years. They came out of the shadows of their red-slathered city rivals Manchester United FC and became the most dominant team in the EPL. Inter has had a bit of a breakthrough year for Italian football as they became the first Italian club to reach the UCL final since Juventus in 2017. It's the Old Guard (Inter) vs New Arrivals (Man City) at the Atatürk Olympic Stadium in Istanbul, and fanatics wait with bated breath. Manchester might be blue right now (owing to Man City's dominance in the city over Man United), but this UCL, it seems like the whole of Europe is painted blue in two differing shades.

Parag Kulkarni, senior vice president – international and president – A. O. Smith India, is looking forward to the biggest match of the season – the flair of Man City vs the dogged defense of the Italians. "Man City is vying for the Treble (winning three major trophies in a single season) and for Inter, it is like regaining past glory. Contrasting styles and different reasons for the same goal. My heart beats for Inter but my head says Man City," he shares.

Ananth Ganesh, who represented India at the 2022 Socca World Cup, feels most people will have their eyes on Man City. "The UCL final is probably the most anticipated game of the season. I feel the whole world will be watching to see if Man City can win the treble or not. Even though Inter were champions in 2010, I don't think it gives them an edge since it was entirely a different team and manager. I believe Man City is the stronger squad of the two and has a higher chance to win. But as a Man United fan, I shall be praying for Inter's victory," quips Ganesh.

Displaying similar emotions is Siddhant Chaturvedi, who is also hoping for Man City's loss more than Inter's win.

"I am a Real Madrid fan and Man City knocked them out in the semifinals. So, I naturally want Inter to win (laughs). Forza Inter, to triumph and beyond!" he exclaims.

A fan of the game since the '90s, Anirudh Kheny, partner at Daysie and SuzyQ, feels the English club will be the one to clinch the trophy.

"Man City has the edge with their outstanding team. Inter is looking strong this season but it will be difficult to beat City mainly due to the quality of their squad and bench strength, and their determination to win their first Champions League," he signs off.

IN FULL-SWING

OUTSIDE of fans, sports bars and pubs are also anticipating the match. One of them is The Studs Sports Bar + Grill, whose co-founder Miten Shah is expecting a turnout of around 300 people. "Our place is always packed during UCL finals. We have put up screens for premium viewing and have curated a screening-friendly food menu," says Shah.

As the fourth death anniversary of thespian Girish Karnad nears, an adaptation of one of his most popular plays is being staged

Bringing alive a dream and desire

DESE GOWDA

WHEN it was originally staged in '88, the Kannada play Nagamandala was an important milestone in Kannada theatre. Penned by Jnanapith awardee Girish Karnad and drawing upon folklore and myths, the play explores themes such as gender dynamics and is layered with symbolism and metaphors. Often considered one of the most important plays, Nagamandala is being staged once again this weekend at Prestige Srihari Khoday Centre for Performing Arts. This happens to be on Karnad's death anniversary, however, the play will be a celebration of the late thespian's life and 85th birth anniversary which was on May 19.

Directed by the artistic director of the Bangalore Theatre Company, Arjun Kabbina, the Kannada play will have English subtitles being projected. While Nagamandala has been staged numerous times in various languages from the late '80s, Kabbina says that the upcoming production will be unlike any other. "Past productions have interpreted the characters in ways other than Karnad intended them to be," says the veteran dramatist.

Set in rural Karnataka, the play revolves around a young woman trapped in an unhappy marriage, who seeks solace in a shape-shifting serpent. It looks into the struggles women face in oppressive relationships and how they choose to escape it. Kabbina adds, "With the play, Karnad wrote three different climaxes, from the perspective of the three main characters.

Actors rehearsing for Nagamandala

But many previous stage adaptations do not stay faithful to that writing."

Kabbina was unaware about the play until he came across it during his time at Rangayana, nearly a decade ago. "I had seen the movie, of course, but I didn't know that it was adapted from a play. I decided to make a team work on it and thankfully, Karnad sir also visited Rangayana for a seminar, and we [the students] were supposed to have a conversation with him. During that seminar, I asked a lot of questions about the way he had written the play and he answered them calmly," he shares. Due to various factors, it took more than a decade for Kabbina to realise his dream.

"I couldn't imagine that I would one day direct Nagamandala, as I've always been an actor more than a director. Initially, I struggled with it but my team helped me execute it. I also spoke to former collaborators of Karnad, which helped tremendously," he concludes.

(Nagamandala will be staged on June 9, 10, and 11 at 7 pm, Prestige Srihari Khoday Centre for Performing Arts, Kanakapura Road. Tickets, priced ₹500 onwards on bookmyshow.com)

iD Fresh Food's Anekal Factory Welcomes Young Visitors

Nearly 500 visitors, from class II students to MBA aspirants, have visited the factory, located on the outskirts of Bengaluru, so far.

SOMYA Rao, 14, had been counting the days to her visit to the world's largest idly and dosa batter manufacturing plant at Anekal, Karnataka. Organised by her school, the day trip promised to give her an inside look into the makings of her all-time favourite food. "I love dosas. I can eat them for breakfast, lunch and dinner! So, at home, we always have iD Idly & Dosa Batter in the fridge," says the class IX student from Bengaluru.

The visit to iD Fresh Food's Anekal factory gave Somya the opportunity to witness from close quarters the intricate workings of the raw material feeding area, water fixing zone, grinding zone, and packing zone. "It was an eye-opener. I had no idea that so much meticulous care and planning went into making idly and dosa batter. Also, watching the parotta manufacturing process was a bonus," she says.

Three months ago, iD Fresh Food decided to open the gates to its state-of-the-art manufacturing unit at Anekal, fondly referred to as Giant Home Kitchens, to students every fortnight. The Bengaluru-based company had no idea how popular the concept would become. Nearly 500 visitors, from class II students to MBA aspirants, have visited the factory, located on the outskirts of Bengaluru, so far.

"It has been an enriching experience for both, the children and our team. By creating such interactive and educational opportunities, we believe that we can contribute to the overall well-being of the younger generation and inspire them to make informed choices when it comes to their food preferences," says Rahul Gandhi, chief marketing officer, iD Fresh Food.

Visitors are not allowed within the main premises where the batter is made due to safety regulations. A video presentation by GLN Murthy, the chief manufacturing officer, iD Fresh Food, explains the end-to-end process in detail. For the parotta manufacturing, visitors can view the process from a gallery area, giving them an opportunity to witness it firsthand.

"Children are not only the future of our planet, but they also possess a remarkable ability to grasp and absorb information. In today's world, where there have been alarming concerns about food safety and nutrition, it is essential to empower children with knowledge about the importance of chemical-free, good food," notes Rahul.

Since its inception in 2005 in a 50-sqft kitchen in Bengaluru, iD Fresh Food has been at the forefront of revolutionising the fresh food industry in India. iD today makes over 3 lakh parottas and 1 lakh kg of batter in a day at their factory in Anekal, Bangalore. The brand's biggest USP is its 100% natural, home-made style of preparation, without the use of any chemicals, preservatives, artificial colours, or flavours. Also, the products are made in Giant Home Kitchens, not laboratories, bringing together the finest ingredients, the latest technology, and traditional recipes in a world-class, pristine and hygienic environment.

Earlier this year, on World Idli Day - 30th March - PC Musthafa, CEO and Co-founder, iD Fresh Food, took viewers on a live, virtual tour of the Anekal factory. He answered questions posted during the live session, and cleared doubts regarding safety, hygiene and the quality of ingredients.

While the company's primary marketing efforts are directed towards adults, it recognises the influence and impact that children have on consumption decisions within households. "Through our educational initiatives and commitment to providing high-quality, natural food products, we aim to create a positive impact on children and their families, fostering a culture of healthy eating and promoting the well-being of individuals and communities," explains the chief marketing officer.

Educating and sensitising young minds about the importance of consuming healthy and fresh food can go a long way in creating a healthier world. It's imperative to be aware of the potential risks associated with consuming foods that contain harmful chemicals or preservatives, in order to fully embrace the use of natural ingredients and make mindful dietary choices.

Interestingly, iD Fresh Food's factory visits also serve as a subtle message to children about the significance of spending quality time with their families. "We aim to facilitate the creation of nutritious and chemical-free meals at home, promoting the importance of family time and shared meals," affirms Rahul.

FIT BIT

GANDA BHERUNDASANA KNEES TOGETHER (FORMIDABLE FACE POSE KNEES TOGETHER)

It is an advanced, intense backbend that stretches the front body and should only be attempted after more basic and intermediate backbends have been mastered. In Ashtanga Yoga, it is a part of the advanced variation, or one of the series, Vinyasa.

STEPS

- Start by performing simple warm up poses. Move to a neutral table top position with the toes curled under.
- Shift the weight forward so the shoulders move beyond the wrists. Draw the elbows in towards the upper ribs and rest the torso on the shelf of the backsides of the triceps.
- Place the chin down on a soft surface and come to a modified down dog. Lift one leg into the air for a breath and then release. Switch sides lifting the other leg into the air and find out which leg works out best.
- Lift the legs comfortably in the air. Bend elbows and press the palms on the floor, fingers facing backward. Feel the pressure into your chin and neck against the floor.
- To explore the full expression, kick up and find the balance. Start to bend the knees together allowing the legs to pendulum behind you for balance.
- Make sure that you place both your legs on your head, looking forward.
- Hold the pose for 3-4 breaths or at your convenience without shaking your body.
- To release, drop one leg down and then the other besides. Release your hands and come back to the child's pose and relax.

BENEFITS

- Tones the spine and the abdominal organs.
- Maintains a good body balance and reduces mental stress and physical strain.
- Gives immediate relief for back pain and much strength to the neck region.

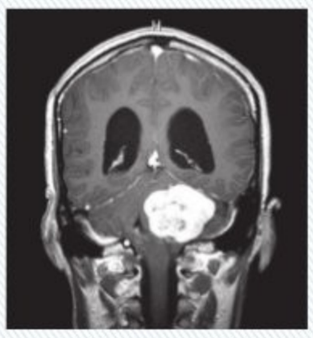
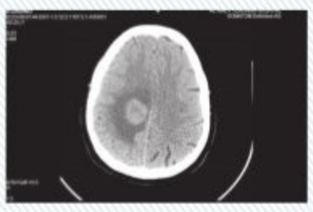
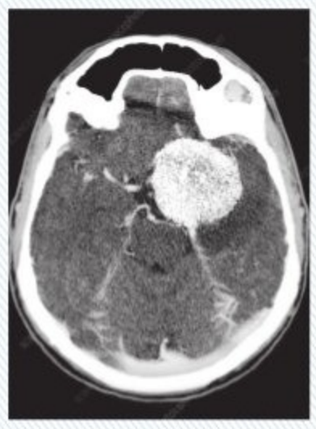
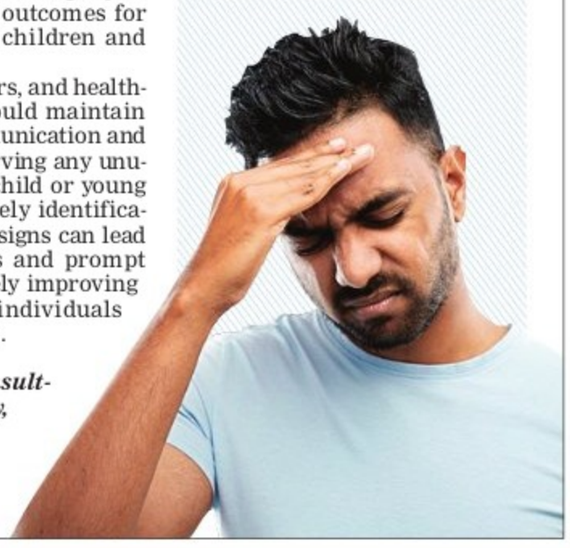
Indian Youth at Increased Risk of Brain Tumours

On Brain Tumour Day, which is today, learn about its early symptoms









DR KIRAN S KHANAAPURE

The increasing trend of brain tumours among Indian youth is a matter of concern and requires attention from both healthcare professionals and the general public. Brain tumours refer to abnormal growths of cells in the brain, which can be either cancerous (malignant) or noncancerous (benign). While brain tumours can affect individuals of all ages, there has been a noticeable rise in cases among the youth population in India.

Early detection of brain tumours is crucial for timely intervention and improved outcomes. It is important for parents, caregivers, and healthcare providers to be aware of the early signs and symptoms of brain tumours in children and youth.

Early signs of brain tumours:

- Persistent or recurrent headaches, especially progressive early morning wake-up headaches associated with vomiting can be particularly concerning.
- Blurred or double vision, sudden changes in vision, or the presence of a persistent squint may indicate involvement of the optic nerves or other visual pathways.
- Unexplained seizures, especially in an individual with no history of epilepsy manifesting as convulsions, staring spells, or temporary loss of consciousness need evaluation.
- Clumsiness in specific body parts, difficulty with coordination, changes in gait, or a sudden loss of motor skills could be indicative of a brain tumour.
- Any unexplained changes in sensation, such as tingling in specific body parts, difficulty with fine motor skills, or loss of sensation, should not be ignored.

Subtle signs in young children:

- Unexplained nausea or vomiting, particularly if it occurs in the morning or is accompanied by headaches.
- Brain tumours can affect cognitive abilities, leading to changes in memory, attention span, and overall academic performance.
- Behavioural changes such as irritability, mood swings, personality changes, and social withdrawal should also be noted.

It is important to note that these symptoms are not exclusive to brain tumours and can be associated with various other conditions. However, if any of these signs persist or worsen over time, it is crucial to seek medical attention for further evaluation and diagnosis. Early detection and prompt medical intervention can significantly improve the prognosis and treatment outcomes for brain tumours in children and youth.

Parents, caregivers, and healthcare providers should maintain open lines of communication and be vigilant in observing any unusual changes in a child or young adult's health. Timely identification of these early signs can lead to early diagnosis and prompt treatment, ultimately improving the prognosis for individuals with brain tumours.

'Ramaiah Sat' Ground Control Station Inaugurated

"RAMAIAH SAT" Ground Control Station Inaugurated by Chancellor of RUAS Dr. M. R. Jayaram and Dr. A Sivathanu Pillai, Professor Emeritus, RUAS also seen are (L-R) Dr. Pushpati Nath Razdan, Principal Advisor – Quality Assurance and Excellence Cell, Dr. Om Prakash Kharbanda, Pro Vice Chancellor - Health Sciences, M R Sreenivasa Murthy, CE GEF(M), Dr. Kuldeep Kumar Raina, RUAS Vice Chancellor

Ramaiah University of Applied Sciences celebrated National Technology Day with the theme "School to Startups: Igniting Young Minds to Innovate" at Ramaiah Technology Campus (RTC), Peenya, yesterday.

The celebrations started with talks on quantum computing by Dr. Girish Chandra from TCS. The event was graced by Dr. M. R. Jayaram, Chancellor of RUAS, and Dr. A. Sivathanu Pillai.

The RAMAIAH SAT ground control station was inaugurated by the chancellor with an august gathering of several dignitaries. RUAS plans to build a student satellite called "Ramaiah Sat," coinciding with Azadi Ki Amrit Mahotsav, the 75th year of Indian Independence.

The satellite ground control station is capable of receiving data in UHF, VHF, as well as S-band frequencies. A live link of the NOAA satellite tracking and downlink capability of the ground station was demonstrated during the inauguration ceremony. Additionally, the data will be used for weather estimation, forest fire detection, vegetation, as well as tomography. The RAMAIAH SAT ground station has the capability to receive and process the downlink data from NOAA series satellites, namely 15, 18, and 19. The downlink data can be processed for weather prediction, tomography, water resource management, and forest fires. Furthermore, with some processing, vegetation index can also be found. These data can be used to support farmers for sowing crops, reduce the damage caused due to forest fires, as well as manage water shortage in the country. The ambition is to provide an improved prediction model for the downlink data provided by the satellite and to launch a satellite with an IoT payload and have a satellite cluster that can provide accurate polarimetric data for the country.

Later, in the presidential address by Dr. Jayaram, emphasis was placed on the requirement of close interaction between industry and academia for the development of various products catering to mankind.

Professor Kuldeep K. Raina, Vice Chancellor, Chief Executive M. R. Sreenivasa Murthy, and a host of other academicians and officials graced the occasion.

PROMINENT KANNADA TECHNICIANS TO JOIN THE CREW OF KICHCHA 46?

Sudeep-starrer, produced by Kalaipuli Thanu, is likely to be made in Kannada and Tamil and will be helmed by debutant Vijay Karthikeyan

A SHARADHAA

WE had earlier reported that Kichcha Sudeep and Tamil producer Kalaippuli Thanu were uniting for Kichcha 46. Set to be a Kannada-Tamil bilingual, it is speculated that the film will be directed by debutant director Vijay Karthikeyan. Reportedly, Sudeep is impressed with the story written by the first-timer and wants to start filming for Kichcha 46 sometime this month.

While there has been no official confirmation about the cast and crew, names like composers Harris Jayaraj and Yuvan Shankar Raja have been doing the rounds. However, our source reveals that the makers of Kichcha 46 have opted for well-known Kannada technicians for the project. While Ajaneesh Loknath, who previously composed music for Sudeep's Vikrant Rona, is expected to reunite with the actor on Kichcha 46, art director Shjivakumar and cinematographer Shekar Chandra might be the other members of the crew. More details about the film and the rest of the cast and crew are expected to be announced by the production house in the coming days.

Meanwhile, Sudeep's next highly anticipated project, Billa Ranga Bashaa, is already in the works. Billed as a fantasy action adventure, the film reunites Sudeep with his Vikrant Rona director Anup Bhandari.

'We should trust our creative instincts over excessive budgets'

... says veteran music composer and director V Manohar as he talks about his upcoming film Darbar, slated to release this week

CE FEATURES

V Manohar

WHEN V Manohar entered the film industry almost three decades ago, it was with aspirations of becoming a director. However, his lyric-writing talent caught the attention of filmmaker Upendra, who turned him into a music composer. After working in over 230 films as a composer, he also turned director with O Mallige(1997), which achieved great success. He followed it up with Indradhanush(2000), which fell short of expectations. Now, 23 years later, Manohar returns to helm his third project, Darbar, which will also have music composed by him.

In an interview with CE, Manohar, who is also known for his appearance on the popular reality show Maja Talkies, shares the reasons behind the long gap in his directorial career and discusses the disparities between shooting on a reel and working in the digital realm.

"After Indradhanush, I struggled to find the right producers. Those who expressed interest either abandoned the projects midway or caused delays, putting me in a difficult situation. Fortunately, my involvement in music composition kept me occupied, and my work in the small screen industry helped me stay afloat," says Manohar, expressing his bewilderment at the failure of production houses to recognise his directorial capabilities.

Having directed O Mallige and Indradhanush using traditional methods, transitioning to direct Darbar proved to be a novel experience for the filmmaker. "Shooting on reels had its limitations, leaving little room for mistakes. We had to conduct extensive rehearsals before capturing the final shots. With digital technology, we can afford to say 'One more, one more,' but rehearsals remain essential even today. The filmmaking process has undergone significant advancements. Regardless of our approach, the key to competing lies in presenting compelling stories. I believe that we should rely on our creative instincts rather than extravagant budgets," explains the veteran.

Darbar is presented as a political satire, highlighting the corrupt system with a touch of humour. Manohar firmly believes that contemporary audiences, immersed in the fast-paced world of the 2020s, prefer light-hearted subjects and a swift narrative pace. This understanding influenced his direction of Darbar.

Sathish, who plays the lead, has also written the dialogues and screenplay. The film features a cast comprising Jahnvi, Sadhu Kokila, veteran actor Ashok, Lakshmi Devamma, Naveen Padil, Santhu, Karthik, Thriveni, and otherss.

First look of Zack Snyder's epic space opera Rebel Moon out

CE FEATURES

WE had earlier reported that Zack Snyder is working on an epic space opera film titled Rebel Moon. Netflix has now released the first look poster of the film which is slated to release on December 22.

The film is based on a screenplay that Snyder co-wrote with Shay Hatten and Kurt Johnstad. It is inspired by Akira Kurosawa's film Seven Samurai, and is scheduled to release in two parts.

Netflix has produced the film in collaboration with Grand Electric along with Zack Snyder and his wife Deborah Snyder's production house The Stone Quarry. The film features an ensemble cast that includes Sofia Boutella, Charlie Hunnam, Ray Fisher, Djimon Hounsou, Jena Malone, Corey Stoll, Ed Skrein, Cleopatra Coleman, Fra Fee, Cary Elwes, and Anthony Hopkins.

The official synopsis of Rebel Moon says, "A peaceful colony on the edge of the galaxy is threatened by the armies of a tyrannical regent named Balisarius. The desperate civilians dispatch Kora, a young woman who has a mysterious past to seek out warriors from nearby planets to help them challenge the regent."
